U.S. Labor Bill Passed Over Veto

Control of Unions Now Up to Senate

WASHINGTON, June 20 —(AP)— President Truman today vetoed the Taft-Hartley bill to curb labor unions in the United States and an aroused House of Representatives swiftly and overwhelmingly passed it over the veto.

That put it up to the Senate to clinch the decision on whether the bill is to become law over the president's disapproval. It will vote late today or possibly tomorrow.

The Senate is expected generally to override the veto, but both sides concede that the vote will be close.

With a two-thirds margin needed to override a veto, the House vote was 331 to 83. That was 165 more "ayes" than necessary.

In his big battle with Congress over the issue, Truman called in a group of leading Democratic senators for a White House luncheon—presumably to talk over the veto. He also announced plans to go on the radio tonight and give the people directly his arguments against the bill. He will speak over all United States networks at 8 p.m. MDT.

SENATOR ROBERT TAFT (Rep.-Ohio), one of the measure's sponsors and chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee, arranged to follow Truman at 8:45 p.m. with his side.

In a 5,500-word message to the House, Truman laid down four general and 32 specific points of opposition to the bill to check strikes and unions. He labelled it "unfair" and "unworkable." he said it would promote strikes. It violat-

Claim Russia Seeks Sinkiang From China

Tom Masterson, Associated Press correspondent in Shanghai, flew to Tihwa, capital of Sinkiang province, and obtained the first direct report by an American reporter of a recent border clash between Outer Mongolia and Sinkiang's frontier garrison. —EDITOR.

By Tom Masterson

TIHWA, China, June 20—(AP)— A border clash with Outer Mongolia is ended but there is more trouble ahead for China in this far-off province of Sinkiang, hotbed of agitation for a pro-Soviet republic.

TWO CHINESE government officials, a general and a representative of the foreign ministry who declined to let their names be used, told me Tuesday that Russia was trying to break off Sinkiang from China, as she did Outer Mongolia.

They asserted that Russia "implied" the Outer Mongolian border fight which broke out June 5 as well as other frontier incidents of the last few years.

The general conceded that behind the clash of arms was the clash of Russia and Chinese trade interests in this northwest province.

THE CHINESE government has closed the trade routes to Russia, but Soviet goods still reach Sinkiang, which always has leaned more heavily economically on Russia than on China.

Soon to Proclaim Farm Housing Act

By VICTOR MACKIE

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, June 20: Proclamation of the section in the National Housing Act extending that act to provide for financing new farm housing is now scheduled for the end of June or early July, it was learned here Friday.

At that time Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of reconstruction, will make a statement in parliament explaining the legislative obstacles that had to be overcome before the act could be put into effect in different provinces. He will also outline how the farm housing section will operate and how farmers can make application to come within its provision.

Passed at the last session of parliament the farm housing section has not been proclaimed because the federal government was desirous of seeing provincial legislation passed which would facilitate the issuance of NHA farm mortgage deeds. A difficulty exists in Saskatchewan, it is understood, because of the Farm Security Act provision.

The section to be proclaimed authorizes loans up to $5,000, the cost of the farm house or two-thirds of the appraised value of the farm, whichever is the least. If the farm is mortgaged, refinancing can take place so that the loan may be $8,000, the cost of the house and amount to repay the existing mortgage or two-thirds of the appraised value of the farm, whichever is the least. The interest is four-and-one-half per cent and the term of the loan, 20 years.

Leduc No. 7 Well At Depth of 374

Imperial's No. 7 Leduc well Friday was down 374 feet after spudding in late Thursday, officials reported this morning. The No. 8 well is about ready for action with derrick and equipment about 80 per cent rigged up.

Besides the four wells already brought into production of crude this will make a total of nine rigs under drilling operations in both the Leduc-Edmonton and northern points. The company has already announced it intends sinking a total of 21 wells in the new field this year.

Vieing in a depth race but not by a very close margin are Leduc No. 5, now at 4,650 feet and probably the next producer, and Leduc No. 1, now but short of 4,000 Friday morning.

Other depths are: Muskeg, 2,132, Morinville, 3,734; Paddle River, 1, 620; No. 6, 1, 959, and Battle Lake unreported. Production up to 8 a.m. Friday: Leduc No. 1, 158 barrels; No. 2, 196; No. 3, 150; No. 4, 152.

Reds Outnumber U.S. Soldiers 20 to 1

MIAMI, Fla., June 20.—(AP)—Lt-Gen. J. Lawton Collins, information chief of the United States war department, said yesterday Russian soldiers outnumber those of the United States army 20 to 1. In addition, the Russians have "over 10,000" airplanes and "we cannot man 4,000 aircraft today." Collins said that in case of trouble in Europe American forces there "are so small that they could easily be overrun." "I simply cite these as examples of the fact that we are terribly weak today," he told a convention of the Reserve Officers Association.

Within Six Months This Year

7,000 Britons to be Flown to Ont.

TORONTO, June 20 —(CP) —More than 7,000 persons will be flown to Ontario from the United Kingdom within a six-month period this year in what will be perhaps the first long-distance immigration movement of such size accomplished solely by air transport.

THE ONTARIO government has completed arrangements with Trans-Ocean Air Lines to fly the immigrants here at their own individual expense, beginning the end of July, Premier Drew announced last night.

The movement will break a shipping bottleneck which has frustrated importation from Britain of manpower for Ontario's basic industries such as farming, lumbering and mining in which there is currently a labor shortage.

"Those coming to Ontario will be subject to the immigration requirements of the Dominion government and will be passed by their officials in London," said Premier Drew. "They will, however, be chosen on a selective basis by our representatives at Ontario House (London) and in this way we will be able to make sure that there is priority upon the basis of our immediate requirements in this province."

FOLLOWING HIS recent visit to Britain and the continent. Premier Drew announced that the names of more than 100,000 persons desiring to migrate to Ontario were on file at Ontario House in London.

The new rulings are in line with regulations enforced in other provinces.

Answer to British Supremacy

American Jet Plane Travels At 632 MPH for Record

MUROC, Calif, June 20 — (AP)—Flashing over a short course at speeds sometimes above 632 miles an hour, a Lockheed jet F80-R—the United States answer to British air speed supremacy—set a world's record of 623.8 miles per hour yesterday

Simultaneously, Charles H. (Slick) Goodlin, Pennsylvanian who has been preparing for a record assault in the XS-1 over the same course, announced he was quitting as test pilot after a disagreement with Bell Aircraft Co., the craft's manufacturers.

Scene of yesterday's record-shattering flight, watched by only a handful of observers, was at the army's base on the edge of the Mojave desert, which sprawls over sand once packed by a pre-historic lake. Preparations for it have been under way for months.

The plane, designated the F80-R, a slightly revised version of the standard jet-propelled craft, was piloted by Col. Albert Boyd, Asheville, N.C., chief of the fleet test division of the Air Materiel command headquarters, at Wright Field, O.

The British record was set last Sept. 7 at Tangemere, Sussex, by a Gloucester Meteor jet plane flown by Group Captain E. M. Donaldson of the RAF. On Aug. 14, a Gloster jet made a trial run at 626 mph. But this mark was not repeated and did not go down in the record books. Sqdn. Ldr. W. A. Waterton, RAF, of Edmonton, was No 2 pilot in the RAF trials.

Apostolic Delegate Celebrates

65,000 Persons Attend Open Air Marian Mass

By Robert Clarke

OTTAWA, June 20 —(CP)— Unmindful of the threat of rain, an estimated 65,000 persons crowded into Lansdowne Park early today to blend their voices in worship at a Pontifical Midnight Mass celebrated by Msgr. Ildebrando Antoniutti, Apostolic delegate to Canada, as a climax to the second day activities of the five-day Marian Congress.

THE DAMPISH night air echoed as those in the huge throng chanted the responses to the mass, at which thousands of the faithful received communion. Msgr. Antoniutti said the mass from a brightly-lighted altar forming part of a specially constructed repository, topped by a 150-foot tower bearing a statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

More than 500 altar boys, gowned in red cassocks and white surplices, took part in the impressive ceremony.

Earlier from a stage ringed by a Knights of Columbus honor guard each member of which carried a glistening sword at the salute, James Cardinal McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto and Papal Legate to the Congress, said that "the traditions and loyalties, the institutions and the habits of thinking which have bound western civilization together seem to be on the brink of destruction."

CANADA'S ONLY prince of the Roman Catholic Church made the statement at a special convocation at which he received an honorary degree of doctor of laws from Ottawa University. Seven other cardinals, several score archbishops and bishops as well as government officials and diplomats were on hand in Academy Hall at the university to witness the ceremony, marking one of the highlights of the second day of the five-day congress.

Motorists Assessed $119,000 for Fund

Unsatisfied judgment fund set up by the provincial government under the terms of the Automobile Accident Indemnity Act, Alberta's "compulsory insurance" legislation is now $119,000 Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary revealed Friday.

The fund is made up of $1 collected with each car or truck license issued and will be used to pay legal judgments against motorists who have been found responsible for accidents and who do not have either the insurance, nor the financial ability to satisfy the judgment.

No claims have yet been paid from the fund, but a report for each accident is sent by police officers investigating it to the provincial secretary's department to await further action.

"Further action" means that the motorists involved are requested to send their insurance policy to the department for examination, or if they do not have a policy, to turn in their driver's license. This is retained until the department is satisfied that the damages resulting from the accident have been settled satisfactorily.

Russia Defeated On Trieste Vote

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., June 20 —(UP)—The United Nations Security Council today defeated a Soviet attempt to block debate on selection of a governor for Trieste —a Russian manoeuvre which was interpreted as an effort to set a possible precendent against UN consideration of the situation in Hungary.

The case of Hungary and the United States' threat to bring the Communist coup there before the UN was not directly involved, but it was implicit in Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko's attempt to prevent a discussion of the Big Four deadlock over selection of a governor for Trieste.

The council voted 9 to 1 against Gromyko's attempt to keep the Trieste problem off the council's agenda. France abstained.

Building Official Here Says:

Rent Boost Unlikely

Predicting little increase in rent prices, George Prudham, vice-president of the National Home Builders' Association for the prairie region, stated here today that "people are paying about as much as they can afford."

COMMENTING ON Thursday's release by the Dominion government of rental controls on houses built after Jan. 1, 1947, Mr. Prudham stated that "the rental board has been fair enough," and added that he did not expect any great increase in Edmonton rent prices on new homes.

Greatest boost toward putting new homes into rental circulation will be the lifting of eviction controls, he said. "Some people won't rent new homes when they have no control over undesirable tenants," he said. More new homes will become available as a result of the latest government housing move", he said.

Apartment building will probably receive an impetus.

REGARDING THIS year's decrease in home building permits in Edmonton, he stated, "People are expecting prices to take a tumble, which they won't. There will be no decrease in the cost of labor or

Force Evacuation Of U.S. Flood Area

By British United Press

The second greatest flood crest in its recorded history surged down on the central Mississippi river valley today and residents fought desperately to save their crops and homes.

Hundreds of families who had refused to leave were ordered out of endangered areas. Thousands of men fought on the levees with bare hands and shovels to barricade the rich farms and river towns from the flood.

South at Quincy, Ill., where the flood passed the 23 foot mark last night, authorities faced an evacuation problem.

Despite warnings that the flood crest would be as high or higher than the all-time 24.1 foot record set by the great flood in the same area 10 days ago, some 2,500 die-hard residents refused to move.

Sheriff Clifford W. Windsor of Pike County issued a flat order to evacuate promptly and promised that he would post guards to prevent looting.

Most of the diehards were leaving the area today. The predicted zero hour for the flood crest's surge against the weakened levee protecting the area was moved back to Saturday morning. Army engineers said it would pass Keokuk, Ia., today.

An estimated 20,000 persons already were homless in flooded areas, the mighty Mississippi spread over fertile cornbelt farmlands and washed into the Mississippi rivertowns of Canton and Hannibal.

Preach Overturn of Government

Report Canadian Reds More Active Than Ever

TORONTO, June 20 —(CP)— Communists are more active in Canada today than ever before, the Canadian Chamber of Commerce reported in an analysis of Communist activity released today following a meeting of the chamber's national board of directors.

THE 40-PAGE report, several months in preparation, is documented with frequent references to Communist party publications and to investigations of party activities in Canada and the United States.

"The Chamber believes that it has a responsibility to all Canadians to show that the theory and practice of communism is incompatible with the way of life which Canadians know and which most of us wish to retain," says a preface to the report.

The chamber expresses no opinion on the advisability of outlawing communism in Canada and declares that no attack is intended on the government or the people of Russia in the conduct of their own affairs. But it adds:

Wee Lass from Glasgow Travelling to Edmonton

NEW YORK, June 20—(AP) —Rona Marion Gare, who insists that she is "5½ and 5," years old, stopped off in New York Thursday on her way from Glasgow to Edmonton, but had little time for reporters.

Her passport said she is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Macrae and that she is on her way to live with her uncle, James Brodie, at Fort Smith, NWT. Railroad officials said she will meet her uncle in Edmonton Monday.

From there on it was a case of reporters vs typewriter—the one in the office of the Canadian National Railways fascinated her.

Between picking out "t's" on the typewriter and showing off her new clothes and presents for her "new mommy" — she hadn't any for her "new daddy"—she claimed that she would do a "Highland fling" but refused to demonstrate; talked for the first time on the telephone said she had a brother 2½ years old and a baby sister, nine months old, who can "walk in a cart, but not on the floor because she has nothing to hold onto." Artfully, Rona dodged questions on Canada.

Reporters, admitting the superior fascination of the typewriter, began filing out as Rona observed she thought she'd like Canada better than Glasgow but that she liked Glasgow better "than this place."

She arrived by plane yesterday morning, and left by train last night for Montreal where railroad officials will put her on the train for Edmonton.

Eaton's Planning Long Week-End

Establishing what is believed to be a precedent for long week-ends in Canadian business, The T. Eaton Company Western Limited announced on Friday that not only would the store observe a holiday on Dominion Day, July 1, but also would close on Monday, June 30. This means that the store will remain closed from 5.30 p.m. Saturday, June 28, until Wednesday, July 2.

As a result, one official explained, the 35,000 employes of the company across the country, and including those of the Edmonton store, would enjoy the extended holiday over the Dominion Day week-end.

The Royal Indian Navy consisted of only 10 or 12 ships at the outbreak of war.

Senator McGeer Addresses Board

Hard-Hitting Coast Mayor Scores Freight Rates Setup

VANCOUVER, June 20 —(CP) Hard-hitting G. G. (Gerry) McGeer, outspoken British Columbia senator and mayor of Vancouver, lambasted the railways for 4½ hours yesterday before the national freight-rate inquiry as he denounced their attempt to increase charges and called for the removal of mountain rates "discriminatory" to this province and Alberta.

ACCUSING THE two major lines of "blind, reckless, ruthless and indifferent competition," the fiery senator declared they could save $100,000,000 a year through unification of services, compared with the $87,000,000 they expected to obtain through the rate boosts.

Senator McGeer took the witness stand before the Board of Transport commissioners as it continued its West Coast regional hearings and promptly provided the highlight of the four-day sitting as he delivered an angry, desk-thumping diatribe against the railway's treatment of the West and ran the gamut of almost every facet of Canadian rail transport.

HE JABBED at the operations, financial setups and directorates of the two main lines. He called their facilities a "public disgrace." He declared foreign capital in the CPR was "hobbling and fettering" Canada's national economy. And he declared British Columbia was being forced to carry the burden of the national rate structure.

The whole railway situation, he declared, would have to be dealt with as a matter of national policy. He thought that neither the railways nor the board had the power to solve this greatest of Canada's post-war economic problems, and he said that certainly it would not be solved by a 30-per-cent rate boost such as the railways seek.

For his province, he demanded removal of the "mountain differential"—a higher rate on some traffic hauled over the Rockies—and extension of the benefits of the Maritime Freight Rates Act to British Columbia. This federal statute subsidizes lowered rates on some traffic moving through the Maritimes.

AT PRESENT, he said, British Columbia was financing such measures as the MFRA and the low statutory rates on export grain that benefitted the prairies. It would bear a comparatively heavier burden if rates were increased.

Senator McGeer also aligned himself with a contention of J. J. Frawley, Alberta counsel at the hearing, that Alberta was being assessed a major share of the cost of the mountain differential.

On eastbound traffic from British Columbia into the neighbor province, he said, "The people of Alberta are paying the bill for discrimination in rates."

There was "no justification for the mountain differential," he added.

DEALING WITH the long-standing issue of unification, he said Sir Edward Beatty, CPR president, had estimated in 1930 that this step would save the two big lines $75,000,000 a year. Now, they could save $100,000,000, Senator McGeer said.

Nothing in the way of improved financial conditions is obtainable through rate increases that could not be available if they would substitute a spirit of service and co-operation for blind, reckless, ruthless and indifferent competition," he declared.

materials, but delays in building will be eliminated as a result of increasing availability of materials.

"Construction costs won't come down, but the building situation will level off this year as a result of many small building speculators who have been contributing to the inflationary tendency are getting afraid of what they expect to be a falling market and are moving out. This will relieve the situation for the larger, permanent building firms," he said.

Government rental officials would offer no comment on the latest housing move, beyond a hope that new homes would become more available. Official report on the rent control list has not yet been received here from Ottawa..

GEORGE J. BRYAN, KC, deputy rentals administrator, announced today that he will leave over the week-end for Ottawa, where "other aspects" of housing regulations will be discussed by government officials.

George H. MacDonald, city architect, also forecast little increase in rentals of new homes. "I don't think there will be much difference in rent prices," he stated. However apartment house owners had been waiting for the lifting of eviction controls so that present tenants can be evicted and rent prices raised.

"The government move won't increase the number of new homes because the high cost of building is more than many people can afford," he said.

Bill Passed

ed principles "essential to our public welfare."

The House listened while a clerk droned through the long message. Then came the vote which smothered the veto under a deluge of both Republican and Democratic votes.

That action did this:

1. Propelled the labor issue directly into the 1948 political campaign.

2. Erased whatever vestiges may have remained of White House-Congress teamwork on domestic affairs.

CARROLL REECE, Republican national chairman, called the veto a "plain defiance of the will of the American people" and an "open bid for a fifth term for the new deal."

Truman summed up his displeasure of the labor bill in five terse sentences:

"The bill taken as a whole would reverse the basic direction of our national labor policy, inject the government into private economic affairs on an unprecedented scale and conflict with important principles of our democratic society.

"Its provisions would cause more strikes, not fewer.

"It would contribute neither to industrial peace nor to economic stability and progress.

"It would be a dangerous stride in the direction of a totally managed economy.

"It contains seeds of discord which would plague this nation for years to come."

The legislation was "completely contrary" to the United States' basic policy of "economic freedom."

HERE ARE the major provisions of the bill:

1. Let the government get court orders to block "national calamity" strikes, as in the coal or steel industries, during 80 days of mediation.

2. Forbid the closed shop, in which the employer can hire only union help.

3. Ban various kinds of special strikes and boycotts.

4. Permit court suits against unions that break contracts.

5. Deny collective bargaining rights to any union having as an officer a Communist or sympathizer, or anyone who could "reasonably be regarded as one."

6. Make it an unfair labor practice, which could be stopped by a court order, for a union to keep non-striking workers from their jobs by mass or violent picketing.

7. Forbid "excessive or discriminatory" union dues and initiation fees.

United Campaign Fund at $190,000

Total of the Edmonton United Campaign at noon Friday showed $190,000 of the $550,000 objective had been obtained.

Workers in the campaign are pushing hard to reach the half-way mark of $275,000 for the week end. Fifth report of workers will be held at campaign headquarters Friday night. It is hoped at that time a substantial increase will be shown.

In their drive for building funds for the YMCA, YWCA and Salvation Army, campaign officials stressed the fact that present buildings of these three major services are obsolete and are in need of immediate repairs.

Of the $550,000 objective the YMCA will receive $350,000, the YWCA and Salvation Army each $100,000. Each sum is the immediate need and minimum required.

The campaign is scheduled to close Monday, June 23.

beyond its own borders and upon other countries must be prepared to have its methods exposed and full publicity given to the attempt."

The report brands disbandment of the Communist International in 1943 as a "clever lie," and quotes documents produced in the investigation of the Royal Commission on espionage as proving that a "general staff" is still promoting a world revolution from Moscow.

Detailed sections deal with the party press in Canada, methods of infiltrating into labor unions and other organizations, and Communist party aims.

THE LATTER section concludes that the party preaches the overturn of the Canadian form of government by force, stands for the destruction of political freedom and compels obedience to a "party line" rather than to constituted authority.

Plan No Exiled Hungary Govt.
By JACK GUINN

BUDAPEST, June 20.—(AP)—A member of the Hungarian parliament who has fled the country sent word to the Associated Press today that there is no plan to set up a Hungarian government in exile.

There had been speculation along these lines ever since Premier Ferenc Nagy was forced out of office in a Communist coup three weeks ago.

In a message to this correspondent, Count Gyula Desseswiffy, a former leader in the anti-Communist element of the Smallholders party who has sought refuge in Vienna, said his friends should be informed that his flight was not to be taken as a resignation from parliament.

He and his wife fled in fear of Communist arrest.

LONDON LETTER

Canada Can't Afford To Refuse Challenge

By Sir Shuldham Redfern

LONDON, June 20:—About a hundred and thirty miles north of London is the City of Lincoln, one of the most beautiful little cities in England. It lies a few miles east of the main line to Scotland, and if you go there by train, you have to change on to a branch line, for it would, I suppose, be unseemly for the thundering Scotch expresses to pass through it.

THE STATION is a typical Victorian structure, and in the space before it is a row of small shops that have seen more prosperous days. Nearby is the High Street, the spine of the little city, with its bustle and intimacy and the delicate texture of its life, where even the most outrageous examples of chain store architecture seem to be subdued by the rhythm of its age-long tradition. The High Street slopes up through the mediaeval arch, and as it rises steeply, the shops become smaller and more old-fashioned until they seem to bow to one another across the narrowing street. This is the oldest part of the town, with alleys leading off into twisted lanes, and you can now see what the whole place was like in the days of country carts and cobbles. There are small bow-windows full of antiques and curios, little drug stores with their square jars and bottles of colored liquid, shops with packets of washing blue, spices, children's magazines and toys, and the simple domestic needs of every household.

Suddenly at the top of the hill you come out on a little square and passing through an ancient gateway on the right, you can see the splendid mass of the Cathedral spreading upwards in all its sublime immensity. It is hardly visible from the winding streets of the city, but its spirit dominates the place, and from a distance it seems to rise majestically above the houses and, as it were, to draw them clustering round its noble walls.

Houses Magna Carta

Lincoln Cathedral is one of the largest and finest in the world, and dates from the eleventh century. Norman doorways and arches, early English towers, decorated gables, perpendicular beifries and windows, thirteenth century iron screens, exquisitely carved woodwork on spandrels and bosses and the rich glow of early English glass are blended together in the endless nave and towering transepts which make up this magnificent and venerable building. In one of the chapels in the south aisle is the famous Magna Carta which our American friends kept for us during the war in the Library of Congress side by side with the Declaration of Independence. Leading out of the north aisle are the cloisters with the library built by Wren in 1674 and the Chapter House which was completed in 1230, a superb example of grace and symmetry.

EIGHT THOUSAND miles away in the hill country above Durban is the City of Pietermaritzburg, the epic city of South Africa, for it was here that our European civilization fought its original battles with barbarism and established the first government of the pioneers. It is a university and a cathedral city set in a luxuriant valley athwart a river which borders one of the most beautiful parks in South Africa. It is gay with flowering trees and shrubs, and here many have found a quiet environment in the evening of life, away from the heat of the coast.

What a contrast, you will say, between these two cities—Lincoln, with its origins deep down in the canyons of antiquity, Pietermaritzburg, founded only a hundred and twenty years ago, young and fresh and looking to the future. But on May 29 these two cities decided to get together, for they discovered that despite their obvious differences, they had much in common. They were both capital cities—the one of an English county, the other of a Province of the Union of South Africa. They were both situated in a sweeping stretch of fertile farmland. They were both market towns of considerable importance. They were both centres of deep spiritual influence. They were both about the same size. They had both sent their sons to fight for freedom in two wars, and the same two wars. But above all, they were both governed by the same system of local government. If the Mayor and City Fathers of Lincoln and Pietermaritzburg could change places, they would know what to do and how to do it.

The Mayors Talk

And so at dusk on the 29th of May, the Mayor and Aldermen of Lincoln put on their historic robes, and preceded by the mace and sword of the city filed in solemn and stately procession along the nave of the great Cathedral and into the Chapter House where a cross-section of the city was gathered together to honor the High Commissioner for South Africa, and the City of Pietermaritzburg. It was a moving and dignified occasion and the climax of it was a telephone conversation between the Mayor of Lincoln and the Mayor of Pietermaritzburg where a similar ceremony was taking place.

WHAT IMPRESSED me most about it all, more even than the wonderful setting for so historic an event, was the obvious sincerity of the mayor, the aldermen, and all the assembled company. It was as great an honor for them and their city to be associated with Pietermaritzburg as for Pietermaritzburg to be associated with Lincoln. There was no hint of patronage or superiority. They were proud of their new-found friends and honored by their friendship. And it was, I thought, of tremendous significance that this freedom of association so vividly demonstrated by the conversation of the two mayors, should have been hallowed within reach of the great document which gave our people freedom nearly seven and a half centuries ago. Just as Pietermaritzburg can now feel indissolubly connected with the past of Lincoln so can Lincoln share in the future of Pietermaritzburg. Those are the kind of threads that form the warp and woof of a civilized world for they show that the only way in which we can pay our debt to the past is by ensuring that the future is indebted to ourselves.

Other Counterparts

Of what interest is all this to Canada? I suggest it is of great interest and of very great importance to Canada. If a city in Great Britain and a city in Natal can form an association of this nature, almost every city in Canada can do the same. And it is important that some of them should, because in their local governments the cities and towns of of freedom loving countries possess a common denominator which is far more solid and enduring than can usually be found in provincial and national administration.

WHAT COULD be more natural than some of the cities in Canada and Great Britain should join hands in a gesture of friendship based on some feature of common interest? It might be the mere fact that they have the same name such as Windsor, Ontario, and Windsor, Berkshire; or it might be that they are great ports and entreports of world trade such as Montreal and Liverpool, or Vancouver and Southampton; or it might be a special bond for venerable and historic past such as Quebec and Winchester; or a similarity in cultural outlook such as Winnipeg and Edinburgh. I ha e at one time or another visited every city in Canada and I know of none to which there is not a suitable counterpart in this country.

To speak of the bonds of friendship between Great Britain and Canada may be to utter a well-worn platitude but it is, nevertheless, one of the best and most hopeful things in an unstable world. Such things are held under a perpetual challenge, and it is a challenge which neither you in Canada nor we in Britain can afford to refuse.

I HAVE suggested above one way, and it is one of many ways, by which that challenge can be met.

In 1519, it took Magellan 1,095 days to travel around the world.

Gets $24,000 For 12 Years Spent in Jail

CHICAGO, June 20 —(AP)— The Illinois legislature yesterday appropriated $24,000 to Joseph Majcezk, 39, for wrongfully serving 12 years in prison on a murder charge and he immediately planned a long vacation for the work-less mother who fought so valiantly to free him.

"I know I'll be able to convince her she should take a long rest," Majczek said of his mother, Tillie, 55.

With her savings and the mortgage on her home, Mrs. Majczek posted a $5,000 reward for information that would exonerate her boy of the charge that he murdered Policeman William D Lundy in 1933.

The Chicago Times offered to help her prove the son innocent and was instrumental in ferreting out new facts.

At a pardon board hearing, testimony was given that an important trial witness who had identified Majczek as the slayer of Lundy had told conflicting stories to friends. The pardon resulted.

Ask Canada-Wide Pre-Marital Tests

MONTREAL, une 20 —(CP)—The broad fields of immunization and industrial health came in for discussion yesterday at the third and concluding day of the 28th annual convention of the Health League of Canada which went on record as approving Canada-wide adoption of pre-marriage medical tests. The resolution regarding pre-marriage medical examination, including a test for syphilis, was put forward by Dr. Gordon Bates of Toronto, general director of the league, who noted that Manitoba, Saskatchewan Alberta and Prince Edward Island have such a law and in British Columbia the legislation only awaits enactment.

Labor Congress Commends Code

OTTAWA, June 20.—(CP)—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada yesterday placed on record its commendation of the government for introduction of the new federal labor code and recommended that "all provinces enact legislation of equal value."

In a statement appearing over the name of President Percy R. Bengough, the congress stated its belief that "one of the first steps to national unity is uniform labor and social laws throughout the Dominion."

The present bill, introduced in the Commons Tuesday by Labor Minister Mitchell, was not a national labor code, however, as it applied only to industries and undertakings of an inter-provincial character.

"In view of this limited scope," the statement continued, "the formulation of regulations governing the vast majority of Canadian workers is left to the tender mercy of the various provinces. However, it must be fully recognized that the limitation is not chargeable to the Dominion but emanates from provincial governments who desire to retain all of the old-time autonomy, even in face of modern methods and needs of Canadian economy.

Noted Educator And Sister Shot

PINECLIFFE, Colo., June 20.—(AP)—Emily Griffith, 68-year-old nationally known pioneer in adult education, and her sister, Florence Griffith, 87, were found shot to death in their mountain home yesterday and a neighbor and friend was sought for questioning. Undersheriff Donald Moore said Fred Lundy, 65, was missing from his cabin and his car had been found with a note in it indicating he may have killed himself. Lundy was described as a former teacher in Denver's Emily Griffith Opportunity School which the slain woman founded and brought to prominence among adult education projects.

Deer Has Twins

OTTAWA, June 20 (CP)—Cigars —or their quadrupedal equivalent —were really in order today on a nearby farm when "Lady," a two-year-old deer, gave birth to not one, but two fawns. The blessed event was unique in the experience of district game overseer Wayne Robinson, who said that twin fawns were almost unheard of in the game world.

Indian to Hang After 3 Trials

VANCOUVER, June 20—(CP)—An assize court jury last night convicted Davis Houston, 28-year-old Indian, of the murder of Mrs. Beatrice Smith at Beline Inlet on Nov. 5, 1946. Mr. Justice A. M. Manson sentenced him to be hanged Oct. 1. The jury returned their verdict after two hours and 36 minutes. Houston received the hanging sentence with no apparent sign of emotion. His counsel, C. Walter Hodgson, said the sentence would be appealed. The present trial was the third time in six months that Houston went on trial for the murder of Mrs. Smith, a logging camp cook, who was found beaten to death in her bed last November.

A Labor Relations Code

The long-heralded federal Labor Code is before parliament. It is embodied in a bill which if enacted will become "The industrial relations and disputes Act."

The object of the measure is to prevent work stoppages resulting from disagreement between employes and employers. There are two main features to this end;

The bill would prohibit strikes, lockouts and strike votes until the machinery for peaceful settlement of disputes has been exhausted;

And after these means have failed a further fourteen days must elapse as a "cooling off period" before action is taken looking to a strike or lock-out.

There are other clauses, of course, which approve collective bargaining, define and forbid unfair labor practices, lay down procedure for the certification of bargaining unions and the negotiation of agreements, provide for the settlement of grievances, and prescribe penalties for violation of the proposed law.

But public interest will centre in the attempt to bar out work stoppages before all the means for peaceful adjustment of disputes have been tried. The bill in this respect is an assertion of the right of the public to continuous service, and of the rights of employes and employers to be protected against summary shut-downs. It forbids arbitrary action on the part of employers and employe organizations alike.

The bill does not deny the right of an employer to close his establishment, nor the right of his employes to stop work. But it provides that before either happens there must be a serious attempt to settle the matter in dispute. It would not be possible under this bill for employes to turn up some morning and unexpectedly find the door of the shop locked, nor for an employer to discover that his staff had gone on strike overnight without notice.

The bill applies only to industries which are inter-provincial in character, such as railways. Other classes of industry are under provincial regulation. The provincial legislatures thus make labor law for nearly twenty times as many industrial workers as come under Dominion statutes. What effect the new "code" will have in preserving industrial peace must therefore depend on whether the provinces adopt similar regulatory legislation.

Without a Trace

The fate of the Trans-Canada plane which disappeared in the Vancouver area on the evening of April 28th goes on the official record as a complete mystery. The board of inquiry has closed its investigation and made its report. The board found no trace of the missing plane, no indication of where it came down, no hint as to what may have caused its failure to reach the airport. What happened, why it happened, where it happened, are unknown, and seem likely to remain so.

At 11:10 p.m. the control tower at Vancouver received a message from the airliner, then almost due there, "By the range, 7,000, on instruments." That was the last word picked up from the missing craft. A few minutes later search began but its whereabouts could not be learned, by radio or from observers.

The report adds that the plane was not loaded beyond the prescribed limits; the pilot was thoroughly familiar with the route; that the communications system was adequate; that aids to navigation were normal; that the weather was satisfactory.

This at least clears away a long list of guesses and suppositions as to why whatever happened did happen; leaving only the melancholy fact that a flight under normally favorable conditions ended in a wholly unaccountable disappearance.

Fighting Terrorism

The Haganah—moderate—Jewish underground organization thwarted a terrorist plot to blow up the British headquarters at Tel Aviv, where 300 officers and men are stationed, and wrecked an arms factory operated by the Irgun Zvai Leumi.

The incident is important politically, as well as because wholesale slaughter of the security force was prevented. The United Nations investigating commission is in Palestine, collecting information on which the Security Council or the Assembly is to base a plan for settlement. As Haganah warned the terrorists, bombings, killings, kidnappings and robberies if they have any effect can only prejudice the Jewish claims when the settlement plan is being worked out.

It is equally important that public opinion throughout the world should be disabused of any idea that Jews in other countries approve the methods of the terrorists in Palestine. In fact Haganah is understood to take its orders from the official Jewish agency for Palestine, and in seeking to prevent violence is reflecting the attitude of that representative body.

"From the Frying Pan"

According to reports reaching Ottawa, Canada is going to lose 3,200 Mennonite and Hutterite farmers now located in Alberta and Manitoba. They have, it is said, bought land in Paraguay, and are going to emigrate to that South American country in contingents during the summer.

As the land-deal was made some time ago the emigres have no doubt made arrangements to dispose of their Canadian farms at satisfactory prices. In any event they will be able to do so, and will not have to leave the country penniless. In point of fact the move should have substantial advantages, for most of the colonists acquired their holdings here when prices were relatively low.

Neither of these classes of people have found Canada altogether to their liking. That has long been apparent, in fact notorious. They prefer living in colonies, and such race and tradition-perpetuating communities are not welcomed here. They have conscientious objections to helping defend the country when occasion demands, and that puts them out of harmony with national sentiment. For these and some other reasons it is understandable that Paraguay might seem to be a promised land from their point of view.

But as an act of charity some one with official prestige should point out to the prospective migrants that their Paraguay location may not have been well chosen. It is located in the Chaco territory. Every so often Paraguay and Bolivia got to war to settle which country is to own that undefined and not too attractive area. A colony established there would be fairly liable to find itself in a battlefield any time. That wouldn't be any place for homesteaders who won't fight for their rights.

It looks as if some Paraguayan landagent had put something over these discontented people and they had better be warned to look before they leap from the frying-pan into the fire.

Apparently, General Franco thinks he could play his cards better with a king up his sleeve.

Inter-provincial legislation to deal with transient indigents, which would place the burden upon the provinces responsible, and thereby relieve a hardship which at present is being borne by the City of Edmonton, is advocated by Mayor Bury.

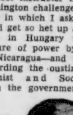
A Teacher's Challenge

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

A high school instructor in the state of Washington challenges my recent article in which I ask why the US should get so het up about the shake-up in Hungary while ignoring seizure of power by the generals in Nicaragua—and while actually rewarding the ousting of the Communist and Socialist majority from the government of Italy.

He writes:

"It is, in Nicaragua, a coup d'etat by a faction, or rather a military clique, striving for power in that country alone. It is not, apparently, meant to be a change in the way of life of the people. Little real democracy has been either replaced or brought about.



PHILPOTT

"I do not approve of barring the Communists from their legal representation in the government of Italy; but our concern in Hungary and everywhere else where the Communists get in power is that from then on there is no means whereby the opposition can express itself; there is no way in which the opposition can oppose a forced change in their way of life.

"I think that in criticizing the United States in this foreign policy you might do well to include England, under a Labor government, whose policy in Greece and Turkey we are following and whose flag waves over you."

IT IS BECAUSE I criticized Mr. Churchill's intervention in Greece, from the very first day it started, that I still criticize Mr. Truman's pounding of that disastrous mistake.

There was no need for a single British soldier ever to set foot in Greece to get the Germans out of that country. The British went in because it was part of Mr. Churchill's plan to restore the Greek king—hated by the majority of his own people.

In those days, almost the whole press of the United States was also against British intervention in that country.

But neither the Churchill government nor the Labor government ever tried to get endorsation of a policy of permanent occupation of Greece—merely as a means of, first and over again the British people were told that their armies were in Greece only until a fair election could be held.

The Americans have taken on a job which no British government would undertake—indeed, it does not—unless it can be sure that from then on there is no means whereby the opposition can express itself; there is no way in which the opposition can oppose a forced change in their way of life.

THE POINT my friend makes against Communism is a good one—indeed, it goes right to the heart of one of the great world problems of today.

That is when he says, "our concern in Hungary and everywhere else where the Communists get into power is that from then on there is no means whereby the opposition can express itself."

Over and over again I have written in these columns and said over the radio, that there is one way in which the United States could get and keep the people of the world behind her. That is by coming clean for a policy of "total democracy." If instead of saying, as in the Truman doctrine, the U.S. will help governments so long as they block — spread of Russian influence, the U.S. said, "we will support countries which apply democracy, whole democracy, and nothing but democracy," then the U.S. would have something solid to stand on.

CRUDE AS IT is there is more "democracy" in Eastern Europe today than has existed there since 1914.

But even with all eastern Europe thrown in, the Soviet world zone is less than one-fifth of the world's total, including about one-tenth the world's population.

Four-fifths of all the lands on earth—nine-tenths of all the human beings on earth—are immediately under the influence and power of the United States and her close friends.

If the United States were to sound a bugle call to set up real democracy in that area in which it is supreme, it would not need to worry about "the Red menace."

But the United States cannot continue ' protect Franco's Fascist regime, Chiang Kai-shek's harsh dictatorship in China, cannot continue to give aid and comfort to the imperialists in Asia and Africa, and emerge as the champion of democracy only when Communists step on its toes.

Elementary, Watson

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

The House of Commons has lately been watching Mr. Coldwell, in the guise of Sherlock Holmes, pursuing a relentless search for the missing - millionaires. The search has not succeeded. For once, the great sleuth has been baffled. The millionaires are still missing, perhaps because they exist only in the mind of the C.C.F.

Of course there are millionaires in Canada. Some exist outside the mind of the C.C.F.—but not as a practical political reality. They are rare curiosities, too few in number to be of any real use in financing the huge new expenditures which the C.C.F. desires. And below the actual millionaires there are no over rich men, or even moderately wealthy men, to foot the bill. When the C.C.F. finally discovers the man who must pay the taxes he turns out to be a very ordinary citizen with a moderate income.

MR. COLDWELL has been disturbed by the spectacle of Canadians who enjoy incomes of $200,000,000 a year. You would think that such people swarmed all over the country like destroying locusts, that their huge strong box of treasure is available to any government with enough courage to break the lock.

This idea seems to have attracted Mr. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, no amateur detective himself. But on searching for the hidden loot, Mr. Gardiner was disappointed. He found that there were only 109 Canadians last year with an income over $100,000, and probably twenty or twenty-five with $200,000. There were not enough of them certainly to provide any significant new revenue, for they are already drastically taxed.

Indeed, there were only 2,484 Canadians last year who had incomes over $25,000, and only 246,000, a quarter of a million in the whole country, who had incomes over $3,000. By this time the millionaire legend is pretty well shattered. Mr. Coldwell is digging for treasure which simply isn't there.

APART FROM Mr. Gardiner's disappointing revelations we have so far only the income figures for 1945. These show only 160 Canadians with an income over $100,000—a total income of $27 millions, but of this the government took $24 millions in income taxes, leaving a mere $3 millions which the government could lay its hands on even if it took every cent from these people and left them with no income at all.

In the same year the 2,800 Canadians with incomes over $25,000 had a total income of $131 millions, but of this $90 millions was taken in taxes, leaving to these people's hands $41 millions. Even if all of them were reduced to pauperism the government would raise enough money to pay its way only for about a week.

Quite obviously then, we are not going to find a lot of easy money to pay for new government services among the handful of Canadians who have more than $25,000 a year. We shall not find it either among those who have over $10,000 a year. In 1945 there were 14,200 Canadians with incomes between $10,000 and $25,000 and they had between them $204 millions, leaving in these people's hands $91 millions, leaving them with $113 millions. The government could secure those $113 millions if it refused to let these people have any money at all. If an absolute limit of $10,000 were placed on all incomes, the government could get an extra revenue of $66 millions at the rates prevailing in 1945.

HOWEVER, having found no significant new revenue in the vaults of the people with $10,000 a year or more, the C.C.F. showed a strong acquisitive interest in those who earn between $3,000 and $5,000. They, as C.C.F. speeches made clear, have been selected for the honor of financing the C.C.F. program of increased expenditure —particularly as the lower income brackets are to be still further exempted by a socialist government.

Concerning the brackets between $3,000 and $7,500 there is a widespread legend of hidden wealth. You would think that there were millions of Canadians in this region of opulence. But as I have out, after Mr. Gardiner has sifted the figures, that only 212,000 Canadians had incomes in that bracket in 1946.

Mr. Gardiner does not say what their total income was last year but in 1945, the incomes between $3,000 and $6,000 totalled $765 millions, of which $167 millions was taken in taxes, leaving them with $599 millions. And most of this remainder ($425 millions) went to those in the brackets between $5,000 and $5,000. In fact, when you boil the 1945 figures down you find that if the government had limited all incomes absolutely to $5,000 and confiscated every cent over it, the extra revenue available would have been only $147 millions.

NO GOVERNMENT in its senses, of course, would attempt to limit income to $5,000. The socialist government of Britain has never thought of it, nor has the Communist government of Russia, for the obvious reason that it would destroy the incentive to productivity which makes any kind of society produce goods. And since C.C.F. members are paid $6,000 a year by the taxpayers they would not suggest an income limit lower than that.

All the easy money having evaporated under the light of actual figures, Canada being revealed as a nation of small income earners, any plan for increasing government expenditures actually means increasing the taxes of the ordinary man. And as the great detective himself might have said, is elementary, my dear Watson.

Joan' got only one mark for her sums today. Mummy, so she altered the 1 into a 5 and was pleased.

"I hope you would never do a thing like that, dear."

"Course not; I'd have made it into a 4."

"Sorry, miss," replied the conductor. "But don't you worry, you can pay me the twopence another time."

"But you may never see me again."

"Well, what's the odds?" he said, meaning to be gallant. "I won't break my heart if I don't."

The restaurant advertised rapid service, but did not give it. A patron gave his order, waited patiently, and fell asleep. He awoke to hear the waitress's voice.

"Did you order this sundae?" she asked.

"Good Heavens!" exclaimed the customer in dismay. "I came in here last Monday."

A little girl was taken by her father to an old-fashioned church for the first time. She stared for a while at the old Highland minister, shut up in a box pulpit, thumping the Bible and waving his arms about.

Then, unable to stand it any longer, she whispered in a frightened voice: "Father, what'll we do if he gets out?"

The New Warfare

BY HARPER PROWSE, MLA

I am sure that nobody can read about the frightful new developments in weapons of destruction without wondering what the future holds for us and future generations. Already the atom bomb pales before more terrible instruments for mass murder. Radio-active clouds, bacteriological bombs, control of rainfall are only a few of those which have been mentioned within the past few weeks.

No thoughtful person can hear of these new developments without thinking at the same time about the misery there is in the world today. For here we have the means of increasing human misery. Surely it is time that we expended at least an equal amount of energy and research towards the problem of decreasing human misery. What the world needs is something which will increase human happiness, not merely add to the already almost intolerable sum of human unhappiness.

YET, PERHAPS, there may be more cause for optimism than for pessimism in these discoveries and developments. I remember that in battle the moments of greatest confusion, of darkest despair, always came just before the victory. Just when the whole picture was the blackest we would suddenly realize that it was over and we had achieved our objectives. As the old hackneyed phrase goes "It is always darkest just before the day."

I believe that we have now reached a point where warfare can be so horrible that it is doubtful if even a madman would dare to start a war. Our weapons of destruction are so terrible, and so uncontrollable, that once they are let loose it is doubtful if their disastrous effects would be limited. Once set in motion it seems probable that they would destroy victor and vanquished alike. In this prospect lies our greatest hope for future peace.

Better than that is the fact that discoveries, although made in order to permit men to destroy other men and to spread misery, can also be used to make life more secure and pleasant, to permit happiness where now exists only uncertainty and misery. The atom bomb is to be used to provide energy for our productive industrial plants. If we can control rainfall in order to make crops fail and spread starvation, then perhaps we can control it in order to insure that crops do not fail. If we can do this then perhaps the spectre of famine will become an old ghost.

IT WAS THE POET Tennyson who wrote: "God works in most mysterious ways his wonders to perform." Perhaps out of these strange and terrible weapons of misery and death will come the wonders of peace, security, and happiness. If this should be, then the efforts of the men who discovered these secrets will be justified. But I can't help thinking how much better it would be if we would first of all try to solve our problems by direct attack, instead of finding hidden profit or benefits in weapons designed for destruction.

Bulletin Readers Say:

Letters to the editor should be brief and discuss no more than one subject at a time. The name and address of the writer must be included, but not necessarily for publication if the correspondent so requests. Letters thus received become the property of THE BULLETIN which, like other whose editors, for obvious reasons, cannot undertake to enter into correspondence about them, reserve the right to delete extraneous or unduly controversial matter.

CANADIAN GRAMMAR

Editor, Bulletin: Unlike "Englishwoman" whose letter appeared in a recent issue, Canadian pronunciation of such words as "film" and "ellum" do not annoy me. If Canadians prefer to pronounce their words differently from Britons that is their business, but I do find myself irritated over Canadians' bad grammar.

There are two glaring examples of this which we meet with daily. The first is many Canadians' inability to distinguish between "bring" and "take." The mix-up is frequently heard in general conversation. The other confusion of words that grates on my ear concerns "went" and "gone." I've heard many native-born Canadians say: "He's just went out!" and other similar sentences using "went" when "gone" should have been employed.

No doubt there are other errors, but if you would be kind enough to publish this letter you would be doing a good educational turn to many of our citizens.

ONLY BAD TASTE

Editor, Bulletin: The animosity shown to the Union Jack by some people is all the more surprising when it is realized that it should be that the great majority of Canadian citizens are only here because of the Union Jack. Only for the Union Jack, as far as Canada is concerned, the course of history would not have been the same. The Union Jack has made Canada what it is today. Therefore let us thank the Union Jack for our presence here and for our good luck.

The omission of flying the Union Jack does not matter one straw to the English, Irish and Scotch. They have behind them the long thousand years of triumphs and difficulties, and trifles are not of much moment to them. The omission is a matter of bad taste, that is all.

HONOR THE UNION JACK.

SYMPTOMS

Editor, Bulletin—After reading Jack Milner's letter, one realizes more than ever the correctness of Technocracy's analysis. Anyone who has studied history knows that the majority of reforms have been introduced and carried out by a small minority of thinking people, who were opposed by the masses. This is true not only in social advancements, including universal suffrage, universal education and the abolition of child labor, but also in the advancement of technology.

I would advise Mr. Milner to read "Our Country Right or Wrong" again, to be sure that Technocracy is an admirer of communism as an antidote for the problems of the North American continent. He may have missed something. Technocrats are more concerned with the problems facing the people of this continent than how some other country tries to govern itself. Communism may be alright in Russia or Europe, where scarcity conditions exist, but it cannot solve our problem of abundance.

The newspapers, radio and pulpits are, by means of anti-Communism propaganda, directing the people's attention to Russia as a means of keeping them from realizing what is taking place, economically and politically, in their own country. The majority of writers and speakers against Communism in this country admit that the breeding place of Communism is in labor disputes, places of industrial unrest, unemployment and slum conditions. It never seems to occur to these gentlemen that the surest way to do away with Communism would be to do away with the conditions that foster it.

When a person has cancer doctor does not treat the symptoms, but operates and removes the cancer. Communism on this continent is a symptom indicating that something is wrong with the body politic. Technocracy's findings show conclusively that that cancer is the price system with its value and profit, keeping from the people of this continent the abundance of goods and services they themselves produce. It becomes evident that an operation is needed to remove this political and economic interference or "cancer" and install a scientific design that will allow the people of this land of this abundance which is rightfully theirs by virtue of their being citizens of this country.

DEPARTMENT DRILL

Editor, Bulletin: Military drill in the schools has always appealed to me as an essential part of student training. The same drill should apply to boys and girls alike. The purpose is not to make soldiers, it is to make alert, quick and efficiently moving young men and women.

But I sometimes think a satisfactory substitute would be department drill. There is so much the young idea needs to learn, before becoming a useful member of his or her community, that cannot be got from books. In a mid-nineteenth century school I read how a young woman learned how to "ask a gentleman to hold her fan and how to step into the car of a balloon."

Such frivolities in school curricula have long ago been discarded—perhaps—but have the sensible and necessary successors been introduced? Are our young people taught how to use the telephone, how to drive a motor car, how to cross a street, to avoid being hogs on a street car—holding up a long line waiting to board it while they themselves tender a bill for the purchase of tickets— are they taught how when they go to shop or a bank they should have their wits about them and not keep everybody else waiting unduly? Such training is worthwhile, while it will ensure school boys and girls being more heartily welcomed into business and equally will equip them more quickly to learn the demands of a military life, if they should ever be called by stern necessity to adopt that life.

PENSIONS FOR ALL

Editor, Bulletin—I would suggest that all those over age citizens in general, welfare recipients (at $30 per month) be all grouped together with a pension allowance of $50 of necessity, and no means test.

Are they not all citizens? They have already paid their quota of taxes and given generously to all funds for the past 40 years or more.

It is up to the young generation to be loyal and humanitarian, for they too will grow old.

POST OFFICE SLOGAN

Editor, Bulletin: I enclose a slogan which our Post Office Department publicly sanctions and is displayed on our mail vans not only in Canada but abroad so that all may ridicule us. It reads "Eat Right for Health."

Surely we should not tolerate ignorance and stupidity among our public officials heads and who ever sanctioned such a slogan certainly lies all the rules of grammar should be severly dealt with.

Any teacher knows how difficult it is to teach grammar nowadays when school children see so many examples of bad grammar in the comic strips and in the newspapers and now we have the post office department flaunting its ignorance and lack of disregard of good taste on our mail.

Adventure Cruise

Girl to Sail Pirates' Seas

LONDON, June 20—(CP)—Long John Silver, the one-legged villain of "Treasure Island," was a picayune pirate. So were Sir Henry Morgan and Captain William Kidd —just a couple of bumptious, hideous traditional buccaneers. They ignored the feminine touch at sea.

NOT SO skipper George (Dod) Osborne, jaundiced 1947's answer to Robert Louis Stevenson that lure of buried pieces-of-eight and rollicking adventure still is yo-ho and fun.

Osborne has hired Mrs. Betty Swapp, 24-year-old Scots poet and daughter of a seafaring family, to help sail his 40-foot schooner, Lovely Lady, on a two-year adventure cruise destined to pace the courses taken by Britain's most colorful pirateers.

Osborne, who gained world-wide publicity in 1936 when he "borrowed" the Girl Pat, a clumsy North Sea fishing trawler, and led pursuers in one of the whackiest three-month chases in the history of navigation, is proud of his newest crew member.

"I INSISTED that members of my crew must have guts," said the unpredictable skipper. "Well, young Betty is as tough as they make them. She's sailed with me before and I know.

"When I agreed to include Betty in the crew, I said to her: 'from the moment you step aboard the Lonely Lady, you're no longer a girl—you're a man. And it's as a man you'll be treated.' "

Chosen from 1,000 applicants Betty—and her five fellow-crew members—have been told by former Commando Osborne that the course he has charted will start from England, cross the Bay of Biscay into the Mediterranean, through the Suez Canal into the Red Sea and then home by way of Cape Horn, the Pacific and Atlantic oceans.

REGALLING the notoriety—and 18 months in jail—he received as the result of the Girl Pats madcap voyage, Osborne said that this year's sea adventure is seriously aimed at call-ins to haunts of Dampier, Morgan and Kidd and "all the famous pirates."

Edinburgh Fete Draws Thousands

BY LESLIE MATTHIAS

EDINBURGH, June 20—(Reuters)—One of the main attractions for foreign visitors to Britain this year will be the International Festival of Music and Drama at Edinburgh Aug. 24-Sept. 13.

Despite the gloomy forecast of the British Caterers' Association that Britain's meagre rations would be insufficient to provide for foreign tourists, hundreds of thousands are expected to visit Britain during the summer season.

Already more than half of the 167,000 tickets printed for the Edinburgh festival have been sold, and, so confident are the organizers of success, that plans for a bigger 1948 festival already are in hand.

The organizers have £60,000 ($240,000) in hand and it is estimated that at least £120,000 will be spent by the visitors. Tickets range in price from two shillings (40 cents) to £2 ($8) and inquiries for bookings have been pouring in from Canada, the United States, Australia and New Zealand.

Famous orchestras which will take part in the festival include the Vienna Philharmonic, to be conducted by Bruno Walter.

A world's championship pipe band contest and a display of Highland dancing and piping by the Highland regiments on the floodlit castle esplanade will add an authentic note.

Galt Is Planning Old Boys' Re-union

GALT, Ont. June 20—(CP)—They've dusted off the welcome mat in this Waterloo County city of some 17,000 persons for a gala reception to thousands of native sons and daughters returning for next week's Old Boy's Re-union.

The event celebrates the 120th anniversary of the community's founding, the 130th of its naming as Galt.

Although the official opening of the celebration is Sunday, an advance guard of hundreds of Old Boys and Girls has already arrived in the city, some from as far away as British Columbia.

The official opening takes the form of a memorial service at the city's Garden of Remembrance and one of the best-known former residents is to give the main address. He is Rev. Canon H. J. Cody of Toronto, for years a distinguished Anglican clergyman and former Ontario minister of education who retires shortly as chancellor of the University in Toronto.

Already the staid city has taken on a gala appearance. Firemen and policemen decorated the ornamental street lighting standards in red, white and blue and colorful "Welcome Home" shields. Colored lights have been put up in the downtown section. Stores, manufacturing plants and homes wear shining new coats of paint.

The old Galt horse show, dormant for years, has been revived and opens today for a two-day preliminary to the main event.

This year's re-union is the city's third. Others were held in 1907 and 1927.

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Municipal Hospital Discussed at Trochu

TROCHU, June 20: Plans for a Municipal hospital were discussed here recently at a special meeting in the Legion Hall. A vote is to be taken on June 26. C. C. Campbell was chairman at the meeting.

N. COOK, MLA, for the Olds constituency, addressed the meeting and outlined the plan of the government on the lines of health, mentioning particularly the free cancer and tuberculosis clinics, and strongly advocated the plan for municipal hospitalization.

He explored the fact that people so often make plans for everything else but health in spite of the efforts made to teach health rules through the medium of our schools and other organizations, and despite free x-ray for cancer and tuberculosis people fail to do what they know is right.

J. P. Ferguson explained the plan as it applies to the Trochu district which will work in conjunction with the present hospital, which has been operating since Trochu was first settled.

Planning Stampede

KILLAM, June 20: At an executive meeting of the Board of Trade held on Tuesday night, final plans were completed for the annual Stampede to be held on Thursday July 3.

This year the committee in charge have added chuck wagon races to the regular list of events.

Baseball fans will also be able to watch their favorite sport.

Proceeds from the gate and the eight concessions on the grounds will all go to the Memorial Rink Fund sponsored by the Board of Trade.

Hanna Woman Dies

HANNA, June 20: A funeral service was held recently at First United Church for Miss Charlotte Shaw who died at the Hanna hospital. She was 85 years old.

Miss Shaw came from Port Credit, Ontario and had lived here for the last 21 years. Part of that time was spent with a sister, Mrs. Rice, who died several years ago.

Busley Woman 80

BUSBY, June 20: Friends and relatives gathered at the home of William Sitsen to take part in the celebration of Mrs. Sitsen's 80th birthday.

She was the recipient of many gifts. Birthday cards made by the pupils of the Independence school were presented to her.

A large birthday cake, suitably decorated, centred the table. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sitsen's grand-daughters, Lillian Betty, Elsie and Mary Sitsen.

Arrange Stampede

HIGH PRAIRIE, June 20: Plans for the stampede to be held here July 9, 10, and 11 were discussed at the regular meeting of the High Prairie BPOE recently.

It was decided to increase the seating capacity, rebuild the fence around the track and to erect a new stable for race horses. A good assortment of bucking horses is being lined up. All stores in High Prairie will close at noon on each day of the stampede to allow everyone to attend the events. The High Prairie District band will be in attendance each afternoon.

Re-United

MEETING CREEK, June 20: A brother and sister, who had not seen each other since they left Sweden 20 years ago, have been reunited here. They are Mrs. Nils Sjostrom of Meeting Creek and J. R. Holmberg of Savanna, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Holmberg and daughter, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Sjostrom.

Mrs. Hugo Anderson, who put a note in a pocket of some clothing she donated for Europeans about a year ago, received a letter from Ernest Meyer and his wife of Hamburg, Germany, who received the clothing.

The letter said that their house and possessions were destroyed in July 1943 during an air raid.

The Rev. A. C. Strom was guest speaker at the Young People's meeting held in the Baptist church at Stettler.

Bridge

By William E. McKenney

Many of you will want to sit right down and write me a letter about how bad the bidding was on today's hand. I certainly would not like to play a hand with a void suit at three no trump—but suppose you were sitting in the East position, and your opponents did get to three no trump on the hand.

That happened to Mrs. Edwin L. Marks of Albany, N.Y., winner of the mixed-pair event in the recent Metropolitan Championships at Montreal, Can., and Mrs. Marks was confronted with an interesting point of play.

Strangely enough, several other pairs reached three no trump on the hand. The opening lead was won by declarer with the jack of clubs, a small diamond led to dummy's ace and the jack of hearts played. When East failed to cover declarer let it ride, played the other heart from dummy and finessed the ten-spot, thus making four hearts, five diamonds and a club.

Tournament—Neither vul.

South	West	North	East
1♥	Pass	1♠	Pass
2♦	Pass	3♠	Pass
3 N.T.	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening—♣6 29

However, when declarer led the jack of hearts against Mrs. Marks she recalled that South had bid hearts, and if he held five of them, her partner, West, might have the blank king. Mrs. Marks decided that would be the only way she could lose by covering, so she covered the jack of hearts with the queen. This held the contract to three no trump as declarer could make only three heart tricks.

Parade Precedes Annual Stampede

RED DEER, June 20: With all the trimmings and color of the old west, a parade at noon on Wednesday opened the Red Deer Elks third annual stampede. It was by far the finest stampede parade ever witnessed in Red Deer and hundreds of citizens lined the streets to see the half-mile long procession pass.

Heading the procession was an open top car with two red-coated mounties, followed by two mounted cowboys bearing the standards of Canada and the United States. Then came the Red Deer sea cadets in force, led by their band. Indians in their bright regalia followed, a feature of this section being a horse-drawn travois complete with youngster. Some of the Indians rode in a truck and were decked in feather head dress and war paint.

A truck carried a load of members of the Central Alberta Old Timers Association, including Tom Gaetz, one of the earliest settlers of Red Deer. Next came the Red Deer band playing music and then rattled into view chuck wagon outfits including Johnny Phelan's world champion Red Deer outfit. Lou Heeght's old-time orchestra was mounted on a float. Reg Pollock, chairman of the Elks stampede committee and many of the other Elks, rode in the parade decked out with bright kerchiefs and big hats. There were cowboys galore and some cow girls, all gaily attired, and about thirty members of the Red Deer Light Horse Association. There were pipers, the stirring sounds of the bagpipes and some Scotch lasses.

Wilkinson Named Sylvan Lake Mayor

Facts ABOUT CAR PRICES!

Almost-new 1947 cars are being bought in the open market as "used" cars—at outlandish prices. To remove any possible misunderstanding, we would like to present a few facts about this situation.

We make cars and trucks. We ship them to our authorized dealers across the country. We establish local retail delivered prices. These prices are listed below.

The reason why people are going into the open "used" car market and paying outlandish prices is this: more people want cars and trucks than manufacturers can supply at present. There are some people who want cars badly enough to bid up the price so high that others are willing to sell because they can't resist pocketing the profits.

There is no law to prevent a man throwing away his own money—or from paying an inflated price for an automobile. The important fact to remember is that this is a temporary condition. These inflated prices will collapse as soon as car makers catch up with the demand.

Ford of Canada, as leader in Canada's automobile industry, is naturally concerned with this problem. We are doing all we can to end the car shortage. In 1946, for instance, we turned out more units than in any year since 1929. If the current rate of production is maintained, 1947 will be an even better year.

We cannot, of course, tell anybody what to do about his own transportation problem. We do advise you to wait if you can possibly do so—and get your car or truck from an authorized Mercury and Lincoln dealer at the listed price.

OTTAWA, June 20 —(CP)— A strong front of opposition to the government's bill to increase basic old age pension payments by $5 to $30 a month built up in the Commons yesterday with two Liberal members joining the ranks of those criticizing the legislation.

THE DISSIDENT members were James Sinclair (L — Vancouver North) and George Cruickshank (L-Fraser Valley), among nearly a score of speakers who participated in an eight-hour debate.

Mr. Sinclair termed the bill a "great" and "bitter, bitter" disappointment and signified his intention of seeking its reference to the Commons' committee on industrial relations for searching examination. He was supported in this by Mr. Cruickshank and J. L. Gibson (Ind.-Comox-Alberni).

Mr. Cruikshank said he did not think the bill did justice to the pensioners of the Liberal party. However, he would vote for it because "half-a-loaf is better than none."

THE STEADY FLOW of opposition, mainly from the Social Credit and CCF benches, unfolded as debate on second reading of the bill continued through the night sitting.

There was sharp condemnation of the legislation. Rev. E. G. Hansell SC-Macleod), for instance, termed it a "disgrace" and urged that the government be forced by a negative vote into going to the country on the measure.

General regret was expressed that the means test had not been abolished or at least relaxed.

Mr. Sinclair proposed the government take immediate steps to inaugurate a contributory old age pension scheme by enlarging the unemployment insurance fund and increasing the premiums.

HE ALSO SUGGESTED the government implement its pension proposals to the Domion-provincial conference and increase its contribution to $30 a month payable as a "right" at 70, abolish the means test and draw back the surplus from those with sufficient independent income through the income tax, as already was being done in the case of family allowances.

Urging the government to implement its original pension proposals, which hinged on an over-all Dominion-provincial financial agreement, Mr. Sinclair said he did not see why the peoples of western Canada and the Maritimes should suffer because of the "obstinancy" of the premiers of Quebec and Ontario.

Thomas Reid (L-New Westminster), while defending the legislation on the one hand, agreed that the pensions should be national in scope. Steps should be taken to see that suitable employment was provided for elderly citizens.

STANLEY KNOWLES (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) termed the new rate "disappointing and inadequate" and said failure to abolish the means test was "utterly reprehensible."

F. D. Shaw (SC-Red Deer) said he would not vote against the $5 increase but he felt "very cheap" about it because it was so small.

Angus MacInnis (CCF-Vancouver East said the CCF party would not oppose the passage of the legislation, although it regarded it as "shameful" and "inadequate."

Drew Fires Commissioners

Niagara Bells Row Back Where it Began

TORONTO, —une 20 — (CP)— It's now up to the newly-constituted Niagara Bridge Commission whether the great Rainbow Bridge bell will toll with or without the names of Winston Churchill and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

THIS LATEST development came yesterday from the office of Premier Drew whose lightning-like move Wednesday in dismissing all three Ontario members of the commission appeared to tone down somewhat the $100,000 Niagara Falls' carillon controversy which the premier described a "disgraceful dispute."

Provincial Secretary Michener was named as Ontario's representative on the commission but no hint was dropped as to the names of the men who will succeed the dismissed members—chairman A. J. (Archie) Haines of Jordon, T. B. McQuesten and Ross Harstone of Hamilton.

THE GREAT BELL controversy started last week when the commission on a 5-2 vote decided to buff out the names after three federal cabinet ministers had protested the now famous inscription was an affront to Canada's own national leaders. Dedication was: "To God's Glory and In Grateful Memory of Our Nations' Leaders, Winston Spencer Churchill and Franklin Delano Roosevelt."

Mr. McQuesten forthwith issued a statement dissociating himself from the commission's move. He charged the bells 'had been purchased by American bondholders and that Ottawa had contributed nothing toward the project. Mr. Haines countered with a statement charging Mr. McQuesten with having alone ordered the inscription.

ECHOES OF THE dispute were heard in the House of Commons at Ottawa as interest in the controversy spread to several corners of the globe. The point of whether the carillon's tone would be affected by removal of the names or the addition of another—Prime Minister Mackenzie King—was argued.

Meanwhile a spokesman for the English firm of carillon-makers said Mr. King's name could be added to the inscription but that "it would be sunken lettering and would look like a distinct afterthought." It would not alter the tone of the bell or the pitch. Neither would removal of the names now inscribed on the 10 ½-ton Churchill bell injure the carillon's tone.

Want More Farmers In Tax Brackets

OTTAWA, June 20 (CP)-Agriculture Minister Gardiner told Hugh Castleden (CCF-Yorkton) in the Commons Wednesday night the thing to do was to get more farmers into the income tax brackets, not to give special exemptions to the few already there. Mr. Castleden renewed the contention that $400 or $500 tax exemption for those farmers who raise hogs would increase production. The minister said this was an old story. Actually more than 130,000 of Saskatchewan's farmers had paid no income tax last year, a peak year. He said that the sooner more farmers were elevated into the tax brackets the better. There shouldn't be any more encouragement to farmers to stay out.

Alberta Girl "Cinderella" At Seattle

SEATTLE, June 20 —(AP)— Another Cinderella story came to light when 19-year-old Dorothy Lachelt made her debut this week at Seattle's Olympic Hotel.

The pretty Calgary, Alta., girl made an immediate smash hit with her deep throated singing of the "Lord's Prayer" for the dinner guests and later as she sang a Sophie Tucker number for the dancers.

"Canada's Cinderella Contralto," as she was booked by the hotel's press agent, was the discovery of Douglas Welch, Seattle newspaperman.

Welch was attracted to her singing when she was entertaining arriving passengers as he passed through a Vancouver, B. C., railroad station a year ago.

He started a hunt for the unnamed singer when he learned the hotel was seeking a new vocalist. It took just two days, with the aid of Al Williamson, a Vancouver newspaperman, who found her in Calgary.

Senator Urges Tax Reductions

OTTAWA, June 20—(CP)—Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader in the Senate, yesterday appealed for larger income tax reductions and said that Canada was going to have "strife and certainly socialism" unless the people were allowed to make enough on which to live at fair standards.

"I am as bitterly opposed to Communism as anyone in this country, but you can't fight it unless you give those in the low income brackets a decent standard of living," he said, speaking in debate on second reading of the income war tax act which embodies tax changes contained in the budget.

Senator Wishart Robertson, government leader, replied to criticism of Senator Haig that married women should be given more than $250 tax exemption. He submitted that married women in Canada were better off than those in the United States and Great Britain from a tax point of view and denied charges that the $250 exemption was working a hardship and an injustice.

Australia Gives Britain Millions

LONDON, June 20—(AP)—Australia yesterday gave Great Britain a cheque for £25,000,000 ($80,000,000) with an explanation that it was a "goodwill" gift with no strings attached.

Wife Slayer Hanged

LEEDS, England, June 20.—(AP)—Eric Charles Briggs, 40, a weaver, was hanged today for stabbing his 49-year-old wife to death. During his trial a month ago, a 19-year-old soldier summoned as a defence witness confessed from the witness chair that he had committed the crime, but detectives said he confessed for the sake of notoriety.

Greek Relief Fund Short of Objective

Contributions totalling $8,092 are short of the $40,000 Northern Alberta objective of the Relief to Greece appeal campaign being conducted in Edmonton for funds providing urgently needed assistance to the Greek people.

There has been no outside assistance for the Greek people who are unable to find adequate food or shelter in their war torn country since the withdrawal of UNRRA from Greece on March 31.

Further assistance must be given particularly in the form of medical supplies so that the health improvement of the Greeks may not be halted. This must be done if the basic gains of UNRRA are to be maintained.

Reduce Floor Space For Hospital Beds

Reduction in the amount of floor space required for individual hospital beds in private or public wards in Alberta hospitals to 80 square feet was announced by the department of health, Friday.

Previous Alberta rules had required 90 square feet for each bed, but the Dominion standard called for the lesser number, so Alberta regulations have been changed to conform with the national standard, Dr. A. Somerville, Alberta hospital chief announced.

Sees Britain, France Join in "Team Play"

Any new move on the part of the governments of France and Britain would look like "team play" against the Soviet Union and the "new democracies," Tim Buck, national leader of the Labor Progressive party said in Edmonton Thursday morning.

Mr. Buck is in the city on his return journey in his cross-country speaking tour, and is to address an Edmonton meeting Friday evening. He is reporting on his observations during a recent tour of Europe.

He labelled General Marshall's plan for integrated recovery of European states as a plan to use "United States dollars against the new democracies and the Soviet Union."

"If the United States government has a desire to aid the economic restoration of Europe, let it advance loans without imposing political considerations on countries which borrow money," he said.

He predicted that Russia was unlikely to join France and Britain in a Big Three conference to discuss implementation of the plan put forward by General Marshall, American foreign secretary, and claimed that the United States pledges aid "only to the governments which will fight Communism."

Expect Ceylon Become Dominion

LONDON, June 20—(CP)—The established dominions in the British Commonwealth, which already have blessed the entry of the new Indian dominions into their fellowship, are expected to accord a similar welcome to Ceylon within a few months, informed sources said Wednesday.

Ceylon has been looked upon as "a sure thing" for the next dominion since the findings of government study groups showed a desire for freedom of action on the part of the island, together with readiness to accept the responsibilities of self-government.

Decision Soon Industrial Dispute

Decision of a board of arbitration studying an industrial dispute between the largest group of Edmonton teamsters, chauffeurs, warehousemen and helpers and three local storage and transfer firms should be presented to W. D. King, deputy minister of trade and industry within a few days, it was learned today.

The board of arbitration is made up of A. D. Harvie, Edmonton barrister, Mr. Justice W. C. Ives, Calgary and John Wallin, Edmonton.

Firms involved in the dispute with their employes are Western Transfer and Storage Ltd., Alberta Motor Express and MacCosham Storage and Distributing Co., all of Edmonton.

The latter firm entered the discussion sometime after the board had started sittings to hear representation in regard to the other two organizations.

While the original dispute centred around the recognition of a bargaining agent, wages and hours have since entered the discussion.

Demaret Cops Medal Honors In PGA Test

DETROIT, June 20—(AP)—Jimmy Demaret, colorful Texan from Ojai, Calif., turned in a 69 yesterday for a 36-hole total of 137, picked up the qualifying medal (and a cheque for $250) as he paced 62 other qualifiers into the match play sector of the 29th Professional Golfers' championship.

Defending champion Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., passed up the second round of the qualifier over Plum Hollow's rolling terrain, but will be in there firing today as the play-for-pay brigade bangs into two rounds of 18-hole man-to-man competition.

Demaret registered his 69 early yesterday, adding it to his opening 68, and then just sat back and let the rest of the field try to catch him.

None did, but several came close.

Big Clayton Haefner of Charlotte, N.C., scowling through his bushy eyebrows, shot a brilliant 65, best round of the tournament, to tie for second place at 138 with Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N.Y., who lacked together rounds of 68 and 70 to wind up a stroke off the pace.

Bobby Locke, South African champion who has copped all four of seven tournaments here, had the 139 spot all to himself on rounds of 70 and 69, and moved alongside Demaret, the year's big money winner, and champ Hogan, as co-favorite to grab the title in the match play which winds up next Tuesday in a 36-hole title fight.

Clarence Doser of Hartsdale, N. Y., dark horse who led the first round of the qualifier with a five, under-par 67, skidded to 73 Thursday to land all alone at 140. Sam Snead, who missed a two-footer last week to lose the National Open title deadlocked at 141 with Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., and Jackson Bradley of Glenview, Ill.

Let it Blow . .

This young lady isn't standing in the slip-stream of an XB-36. Headed for a tennis match she struggles past Chicago's Civic Opera Building as a 42-mile-an-hour wind whistles through the city smashing plate glass windows and uprooting trees.

Dyer Confident Cards to Repeat

ST. LOUIS, June 0.—(AP)—Eddie Dyer, who became something of a prophet when he called the turn of the stretch drive of his World Series champion Cardinals, believes the new Redbirds have a good chance to repeat.

"It is certain we very definitely are in this race," said Dyer, who gives twilight batting practice much of the credit for the Cardinals' present winning streak of seven games and for "straightening out some of the things which have held us back so far."

WHILE I always have had confidence in this year's team," the Redbird manager said, "I'm even more encouraged now. Without mistaps to our personnel, I feel we can overcome our handicap and win."

That statement should provide other National league pilots with food for thought with the Cardinals now only 4½ games behind the league leaders and one victory below the select .500 circle.

MY PITCHERS are now all nearing their best form. Stan Musial is beginning to hit, as are others. That last is a psychological help to the pitchers. They have more confidence when the team is producing runs."

Dyer has pick-up pitchers of good quality coming to the park early before night games and pitching to the pet batting weaknesses of players he thinks are most in need of a sharper eye at the plate. Despite a manager's crowded day, each twilight drill is conducted under Dyer's personal supervision.

Trailing by four runs in the bottom of the ninth, the big bats of the Post Office team exploded with four runs. They went on to victory by scoring the winning run in the last of the ninth inning.

Dry-Fly Fishermen

Here is a letter of great interest to you:

Jasper, June 14, 1947

Dear Sir:

Your dry-fly fishermen will be interested to know that the evening rise of Rocky Creek Captain Whitefish has just started. It will last for three or four weeks, so tip them off.

For a couple of hours each evening the water literally boils with these fish. They will give the dry-fly fisherman a strike a minute, but he has to be adept to hook them. Biggest I saw landed again was about 2 pound.

For your further information, fly fishermen are going to town with their cars in the five pounds.

Rainbow season does not open here until July First.

Sincerely,

(Sgd.) Dan Webster.

Mayfair Course In Great Shape For Stern Test

Lightning never strikes twice in the same place, they say, and Edmonton golfers are sincerely hoping the same applies to ordinary rain storms, as they prepare for the medal and opening rounds of the city amateur golf championship this week-end.

Last Friday and Saturday the weatherman was in one of his sentimental moods and wept great "buckets." As a result the tournament was postponed until tomorrow and Sunday.

THE QUALIFYING round of the city amateur and the first two rounds of the city junior tournament will be played on Saturday and the match play in the amateur will get underway on Sunday.

Mayfair Golf and Country Club, scene of the tournament, is in excellent condition following the rain. Its length, trees and deep traps ill provide a stern test for the field and the event promises to be closely-contested all the way.

The tourney has attracted a total entry of 117, including 15 juniors. With an extra week of practice under their belts, the title aspirants should be in fine fettle for the strenuous test. The tourney will wind up the following week-end with the 36-hole final on Sunday.

VERN MOHS is the defending champion and reports via the "grapevine" are that he is slapping out towering drives and planting his No. 9's terrifically close to the pin. Henry Martell, the Dominion champion, is also in the groove and it wouldn't be surprising to many if the two Highlands experts met in the final. There are a lot of "dark horses" in the field, however, and most players will concede that anything can happen in a golf game.

Post entries will be accepted.

Fox Named Coach Of Ottawa 'Riders

OTTAWA, June 20—(CP)—Ottawa Rough Riders got a new coach last night—Sam Fox, 230-pound former end for New York Giants who hails from Washington and who may also play for Riders in the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union pinches next season.

The Rider management, announcing Fox's signature on a contract last night, said he would be in full charge, but that George Fraser, former Rider all-star lineman who coached the club last year, was regaining as assistant.

Fox coached the Patterson, N.J., Panthers in the American Association last fall.

Onyschuck Delivers One-Hitter

Machines Ice Cakes 7-0 As Legion Spills Vets

Sparked by the one-hit pitching effort of righthander Bill Onyschuck, Precision Machine pounced upon Dainty Cakes for a 7-0 win in Men's Senior fastball at Kingsway last night. Legionnaires, showing timely outbursts of hitting power downed ANA Vets by a 7-3 count.

Onyschuck got wild in rare form, going six innings without allowing the semblance of a hit to Dainty Cakes. With one out in the bottom of the seventh Marshall Petruk, pinch hitting for Eric Geddes, broke the spell with a single to left field.

THE FANS were hardly settled in their seats before Precision, batting in the top of the first inning, knocked out bits which produced two runs. Ceee Houlihan walked, stole second and third and came home with the initial run when Searight threw wildly. Peter Dyck also walked, stole second, went to third on an infield out and scored standing up on Joe Sereda's solid single to left.

In the bottom of the second inning Adolph Melnyk lofted over mound duties, but had no effect on the Precision crew. Their hickories pounded out two more runs. Wave Reynar singled to left and Doug Herbert walked. Melnyk threw wide of first on George Alexander's bunt, allowing Reynar to score, and Herbert pulled up at third. He scored on the next play after the catch on Cece Houlihan's long fly to centre.

Precision wound up the scoring in the fourth, with their big bats exploding for three runs. Dainty Cakes missed the boat in the fifth when Onyschuck faltered and allowed three walks. All was lost for the Dainty nine when Mickey Checknita forced Pruden at second when he grounded out.

THE LEGIONNAIRES, trailing Vets by a 3-2 count for six innings, pounced on the tiring Vets pitcher Orrin Vendall, for five hits and as many runs in the seventh and eighth innings. In the eighth with Jim Malone safe on first on an infield error, Colin Kilburn slammed a long homer over the fence and scored up the game for the Legion nine.

With the win the Legionnaires went into a first place tie with Precision in the league standing.

ANA Vets looked like winners when they pushed three markers across in the fourth inning. Frank Pizzuto singled past second and went to third on Ken McAuley's single to left. Pizzuto and McAuley scored when Nayowski's drive to left field went through Kilburn's legs, Nayowski taking second on the play. Legion pitcher Al Young mussed up Tel Kielbauch's bouncer. Shay O'Connor singled over third but Nayowski was caught at the plate on a fine throw from Kilburn from left field. In the next play Kilburn was singled to left and scored Kielbauch.

HIGHLIGHT of the other game came in the first of the ninth when Kostuik of Hayward Lumber connected with a sharp single and drove in the winning run.

Claude Passeau Rejoins Chicago

CHICAGO, June 20— (AP)—Pennant stock of Chicago Cubs rose Wednesday when Claude Passeau, veteran pitcher, joined the National League team after submitting to a back operation last February.

The 38-year-old pitcher has not yet been officially returned to the active list. However, in a week or two his name probably once again will be in a box score. Today he hurled 20 minutes of batting practice for the Cubs.

Beantown Ball Clubs Leap Ahead in Majors

NEW YORK, June 20—(AP)—The Boston Braves and the Boston Red Sox took over first place in the National and American Leagues respectively by five percentage points apiece yesterday without swinging a bat.

The Braves whose game with the Reds was postponed by rain, replaced New York Giants as National League leaders while the idle Red Sox dislodged New York Yankees from the American League lead.

Manager Mel Ott's Giants toppled to second when the last place Pirates snowed them under, 12-2 in Pittsburgh while the Yanks lost their grip on the lead by suffering a 6-4 setback at the hands of the Chicago White Sox.

EX-BRAVE Mort Cooper made his debut as a Giant and the Pirates pounded him to cover in three innings, scoring six runs and collecting eight of their 16 hits off his delivery.

Dixie Howell, with four hits in five times at bat, and Ralph Kiner with three safeties, led the Pirate attack on four New York pitchers. Highhander Kirby Higbe went the route for the Pirates.

The White Sox staged a four-run fifth inning rally to nip the Yanks. Rudy York highlighted the uprising by banging his first homer since he was acquired from Boston in a trade, York's blow came with one on.

PHILADELPHIA'S surprising Athletics pulled to within 2½ games of the Red Sox by whipping over Detroit Tigers, 8-4, in Philadelphia. The win was the A's third in a row and moved the Mackmen into fourth place, a game in front of the Cleveland Indians who dropped a 3-2 decision to the Senators in Washington.

The A's were outhit 10-9 but Phil Marchildon of Penetang, Ont., who went the distance for Philadelphia, was tough in the pinch.

At Washington, Early Wynn with the aid of Tom Ferrick in the ninth, gained credit for his eighth win of the season. Wynn entered the final inning with a 3-1 lead but was yanked in favor of Ferrick after Lou Boudreau doubled and Pat Seerey singled. Ferrick retired the next three batters to preserve the decision.

BROOKLYN DODGERS routed Chicago Cubs in third place in the National League by defeating the Cubs 8-1, for their third win in a row over the Chicagoans. Ralph Branca stopped the Cubs on eight hits.

Auspicious Debut Made by Tigers

Detroit "Tigers" Coleman Young, 20-year-old Negro pitcher who did not allow a hit in his first major league game, pitching a two-hit victory over the Philadelphia Athletics when they crushed the A's 10-5 and then held Morrisville to a 3-5 tie in a doubleheader at Benson.

CONSIDERING it was their initial test of the season, the Tigers gave the good-sized crowd a pleasing brand of baseball. A highlight in the first game against St. Albert was the performance of nine-year-old Ken Awad, who batted the last two runs in the game.

Although the opposition pushed across four runs, Ken struck out a passel and earlier in the game brought in a run when he hit a long single.

Traces of Drug Found Drowned Bride's Body

By Ken Cuthby

VICTORIA, Con., June 20 —(CP)— A coroner's inquest at the first session of the inquest Thursday into the strange drowning of pretty Christina Kathleen heard the Crown introduce testimony that while the bride of eight days was found unconscious in the water of a ferry, she was not drowned.

C. D. Wood, for the Crown attorney, told the coroner's staff also introduced a statement signed by the groom, Jack Kathlewell, which attested that theatrical relations had existed between Kathlewell and his bride of many years. Kenneth Poole, former a Saltonian farmer was the last man who was seen speaking to May 12 night even before the girl's body was found in the harbor.

Kathlewell, on the stand, denied that there was anything more than ordinary friendship between him and Kenneth Poole. Mr. Hope then introduced the love-note statement to which Kathlewell made certain admissions. Kathlewell replied he did not know what was in the statement but quoted from memory a passage which he said he had read and signed it.

"I don't want to embarrass you dear, but it may be that our friendship has something to do with the girls death," said the Crown.

DEPT. STORES Proper ... ital authorities installed sanitary lines of the Bank guys attempted several freaks of a common drug. He said the night nurse received a larger amount than the quantity disclosed at the autopsy, but that it was possible for the drug to disappear after death.

Besides the Kathlewell statement exhibits entered by the Crown included these exhibits taken personally by the coroner's hands, and a lengthy statement written by Saville.

A boathouse runner, Malcolm Ernest said of discovering the unconscious body of the bride in nine inches of water in the bank of the river not far from the honeymoon cottage which he said was occupied by Poole.

WILD HUNTING DOGS

The wild canines with the of mammals was once more feature very prominently brought to America in a few thousand years ago by primitive tribes when they came from the Bering strait and began to cause a number of the animals either run away from their masters or were left to take care of themselves when a family or small tribe set out in some opportunity, and in time became wild. Some American and African wild dogs today

The family retains almost all of the characteristics of the hunting dogs. They were able to climb and run to escape the larger carnivora. Although a small, they could take their time. When Europeans began to raise sheep in Australia, the native dogs were very destructive. But they have now been nearly wild killed off in the more settled areas.

Another wild dog is the African Hunting dog, a strangelooking one that. Its ears are large and its coloration is a patchwork of black, white and white. Its body is long, its legs long and its head massive. Some people think it looks like a hyena and call it "hyena dog." Packs of a dozen or less are common, and some packs contain 60 or more.

relative of the hunting dog. It is less dog-like in appearance, with short legs and tail, and a very large head in habits it is shy and running. The Indians of the forest sometimes take the cubs from the dens in order to raise them. Cubs raised in captivity become quite tame, and can be used in hunting.

The raccoon dog lives in China and Japan and looks more like a raccoon, with its sharp nose, black mask and bulky body, than a dog. It is a true dog, however. Raccoon dogs live near streams and depend on fish and fruit, besides catching mice and rats. The fur of these small wild dogs is valuable.

As Builders Meet

Housing Subsidies Aired at Banquet

Differing views on the question of housing subsidies were aired Thursday evening at the second annual banquet of the Edmonton House Builders' Association, attended by about 200 persons including representatives of loan companies, real estate agencies, building contractors, provincial, civic and federal officials.

Visiting City

MAJ. R. F. WALKER, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Walker, 12106 96 street, who is home for a few days after completing a course at Kingston Military College. He is to be posted to Ottawa. He served with the Royal Canadian Artillery during the war and saw action in Sicily, Italy and Northwestern Europe. He was wounded in action in 1943. Before the war he was a member of the city telephone department staff.

CHIEF SPEAKER of the evening was Angus L. McClaskey, Winnipeg, western regional director of the Central Housing and Mortgage Corporation.

Mayor Harry Ainlay on invitation led off with a brief critical sizing up of the city's housing situation. He said he did not believe that private builders under the present situation could meet the needs in the type of housing required by the working men of Edmonton "or of any other city for that matter."

In building programs he recommended a low interest rate and a long amortization plan so that the rates would be within reach of the average wage earner's pocket.

He declared that under the present plan there was no inducement to get younger men into the building trades and that while others were possibly doing a less voluminous day's work, "I do not agree with those who say the high cost of building is due to labor—labor will never get too much for their efforts."

The statement "this thing can be met by subsidizing the builders" he characterized as "too glib."

"WHO IS going to subsidize who at the expense of whom?" he questioned.

Appeal for organization of all present under the wing of the association was made by the president, R. H. Rae, chairman of the meeting, so that they could bring in findings on a proposed survey of the city's needs for the information of Mayor Ainlay at the con-

At Special Ceremony

Brig. Jefferson Gives Diplomas to NCO's

One of the first groups of non commissioned officers to graduate in Canada since the war, members of the NCO's school of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment were presented with diplomas last night by Brig. J. C. Jefferson, CBE, DSO, ED, who commanded the regiment during some of its bitterest fighting in the Sicilian and Italian campaigns. The ceremony took place at the Prince of Wales Armory.

AFTER A GENERAL salute, march past and inspection, the certificates were awarded to the sixteen members of the school. In a brief speech to the group, Brigadier Jefferson said, "It is a great pleasure indeed to be here tonight to see the smart turnout of this school—one of the first graduating since the end of the war. I want to compliment you on your particularily good bearing and smartness. The Loyal Edmonton Regiment has an amazing record of service during the two wars It has never suffered defeat. I am sure you men will carry on the tradition."

Lt.-Col W. T. Cromb, DSO, officer commanding The Loyal Edmonton Regiment, thanked Brigadier Jefferson for attending, and complimented the school on its fine performance. He stated that the stripes the men had earned, would be no good to them unless they showed sincerity and knowledge in using them. He was sure that the group would carry on the name of the regiment in a creditable manner.

It is hoped, Lt.-Col. Cromb concluded, that another school will be started next fall, perhaps in October, and also one next spring.

In addition to Brigadier Jefferson the inspecting party included, Lt.-Col. Cromb, Lt.-Col. R. A. Keane, DSO, representing Gen. Worthington, CBE, MC, MM, ED, Capt. S. Foggo, Major Edward Day and Capt. C. E. Bumstead.

Members of the graduating school were: Sgt. A. Verreau, Cpl. K. R. McDonald, Cpl. D. A. Campbell, Cpl. D. A. Dancer, Cpl. G. J. Devin, Cpl. J. L. Hunter, Cpl. R. Couture, Pte. C. E. Levitt, Pte. A. J. Duncan, Pte. N. D. Gibeault, Pte. D. A. Cardinell, Pte. R. L. Trudel, Pte. W. T. Cromb, Pte. D. J. Wigham and Pte. J. Chambers.

At the conclusion of the ceremony Cpl. K. R. McDonald, who was in charge of the school during the ceremony, led the group from the centre of the floor and they joined their many relatives and friends who were on hand to watch the ceremony.

J. S. KEENAN

Expect New Peak In Radio Sets

Shattering all previous records, 800,000 radio receiving sets will be produced in Canada this year, J. S. Keenan, Toronto, manager of the supply department of Canadian General Electric Company Limited and president of Canadian Electrical Manufacturers Association, said in an interview here Friday.

Last previous peak year of production in the pre-war period was 500,000 receiving sets, Mr. Keenan said.

The new record is being established despite persistent shortages of certain essential raw materials and skilled workers.

The current rate of production for all electrical equipment and supplies is about 20 per cent higher than last year. Supplies of wiring and other materials used in construction of homes are rapidly overtaking demand, he stated.

J. L. Balleny, also of Toronto, manager of the industrial heating section of the company, is accompanying Mr. Keenan, on his present western tour. The two attended the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association held in Banff last week.

Construction of electrical manufacturing plants in Western Canada is being given consideration by the company, he said. As and when such plants are built they would manufacture certain items not now manufactured in the east so as to avoid duplication.

Edmonton is of particular interest to the company at this time with oil developments at Leduc holding the spotlight.

Work on the new office and warehouse building of the company here on 104 street, costing about $200,000, is now proceeding. It should be completed by autumn and will be of two-storey fire-proof construction.

While here the officials conferred with E. Ormsby, manager of the firm in Edmonton and other officials of the company.

Red Cross Blood Donor Service Signs Volunteer

As Canada's first peacetime free blood and plasma service under the direction of the Canadian Red Cross Society, gets underway, Edmontonians are giving full support to the creation of blood banks by offering to donate their blood to the Red Cross. It is expected that the free service will begin by July 15, with temporary provincial headquarters at the former American base hospital. Shown above, left to right, are Bill Galliver, ex-RCAF serviceman at present on the staff of Mike's News Agency, who is enrolling as a blood donor; Mrs. F. Stewart-Dunn, Red Cross volunteer worker; and Miss E. T. Hugill, RN., provincial donor panel director of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Speaker Here Sees Win for Tories

Canadian disunity has been fostered as a political weapon by the Liberal party during the last 30 years, and today that party is reaping the whirlwind of its actions, C. C. Miller, MP for Portage La Prairie, told members of the Edmonton East and Edmonton West Progressive Conservative Associations at a meeting held Thursday in the Club Roosevelt.

He predicted the defeat of the Liberal government in the next election, and said the Progressive Conservative party was the only one that could hope to form a government following the defeat of the Liberals.

The CCF, he added, is declining in favor with the people of the Dominion, and farmers of the western provinces are beginning to fear that the regimentation of agriculture as practiced by the British socialist government would be implemented if a CCF party was put in power in the Dominion.

Mr. Miller was critical of the Liberal government's stand on old age pension increases, and was of the opinion that a more generous increase could have been given the aged and blind pensioners.

He also was critical of the meagre relief given to tax payers in the 1947 budget, adding that the Progressive Conservative party favored the increase in the exemptions for married people to $2,000, and a corresponding increase in the exemption for single persons.

Mr. Miller said that the $350,000,000 surplus announced by the Liberal party merely meant that the government had taken that amount from the hardpressed taxpayers through taxation. He claimed that a greater measure of taxation relief should be given, and the surplus proved it was possible.

There was some discussion of the party's stand in provincial politics, but no definite action was taken by the meeting. Ald. F. J. Mitchell, president of the Edmonton East Association, was chairman.

Lions Club Hears Red Cross Officer

N. H. Silverman, official of the Canadian Red Cross, was guest speaker at a Lions club luncheon held Thursday in the Macdonald hotel.

In his address Mr. Silverman stressed the need of voluntary blood donors. These he said would do away with the present commercial basis of blood transfusion. Blood plasma could be supplied to hospitals free of charge, and to patients free of charge.

Plans for the Lions' carnival to be held during the week starting June 30, are well under way, it was reported.

The thermometer was invented by the Italian Galileo.

S.S. Businessmen Hold Annual Event

It was "country style" for the South Side Business Men's Association at the annual dinner and dance at Rabbit Hill hall, Thursday night.

Businessmen, their wives, friends, and local farmers danced to modern swing and waltz and old-time music.

A dinner was held in the basement of the hall prior to the dance. A feature of the night was a number by little seven-year-old Betty Welch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Welch of Rabbit Hill district, who sang songs.

Betty and Jimmy Carbone, Edmonton entertainers presented a program of guitar and vocal solos, and imitations on the clarinet.

Frank Cowles president of the association was master of ceremonies during the program.

Mayor Harry Ainlay was also present.

Housing Subsidies

ference of mayors to be held in Vancouver next month.

Mr. McCluskey knotted the notion that the government was in the house-building business during the war. Supplies for this purpose were purchased from large suppliers and due to the emergency of the situation were assembled by large contractors. Recommendations would go forward however that the small builder be included in any large program of the future, said Mr. McCluskey.

"WE FEEL the cheapest and best house can be built by the small house builders but it is an illusion to assume units built by Wartime Housing have substantially depressed the house-builder of a market," he continued.

On the question of the mayor's suggestion that low income groups be assisted by low interest rates and long amortization, Mr. McCluskey contended that the "middle" groups would be left in a wilderness.

Top salary groups could purchase their houses. Lower salaried groups would be taken care of, but the middle group would be penalized.

"Where are you going to draw a line?" he questioned.

He said he shared fully the mayor's sentiment in that the wages of labor should not be brought down, but that their qualifications should be greater.

"WE FIND no magic answer to this problem and we will need the co-operation of everybody," he said.

J. T. Crowder, Toronto, secretary-manager of the National House Builders' Association, scored any continued practice of building homes like "chicken coops." Under this description he said he had seen a number in Regina and termed them "disgusting" from their confining effects and the attendant results of families living in inadequate space.

For the long - term benefit of the householder a bill is being proposed which would require licensing of all builders, he said. This would eliminate inadequately built structures through inexperienced workers and would provide houses that would stand up to the value of the investment.

IN THIS regard he called all present to join the Edmonton association and become attached to the national body which he represents. Many provinces had already agreed, and it was hoped Alberta would adopt the licensing scheme in concert with them, he said.

He invited all members to the Toronto national convention of his organization this fall. Modern displays of model homes with up-to-date fixtures would be featured and dealer representatives would be on hand to present the picture of new homes for Canada's expanding building program.

George Trudham, Edmonton, vice president of the national body, spoke briefly declaring that "collectively we can make a real contribution to the building program —we can lick this problem."

Besides the speakers, head table guests included Jack Wills, president of the Calgary Builders' Exchange; James Morgan, president of the Edmonton Builders' Exchange; R. C. McPherson, general manager of North West Utilities; J. T. Ball, Saskatoon, president of the Homebuilders' Association; George Wall, chairman of the Edmonton Retail Lumbermen's Association; W. D. King, deputy - minister of trade and industry for Alberta; E. G. Lamb, vice-president of the Alberta Mortgage and Loan Association; John Proctor, district administrator, department of veterans' affairs, and R. H. Douglas, branch manager of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Gordon Clark, of Nu-West Homes, expressed thanks to the speakers on behalf of the association. The banquet was held in the Macdonald hotel.

Rotary Club Holds New Members Day

A "new members day" luncheon of the Rotary club was held at the Macdonald hotel Thursday with Jim Rutherford, head of the membership committee, acting as chairman.

Mr. Rutherford states that during the last year 29 new members had joined the club. Fourteen members left the club and the total increase during the last year was 45 members. This number included two new members introduced to the club Thursday.

The two newest members are William Winkelaar, introduced by Dave Little, and F. T. Ball, introduced by J. E. D. Cranswick.

Miss Beth Maveety, executive secretary of the club was introduced by chairman Bert Hollingshead.

The Rev. E. G. Turnbull appealed to members to donate their blood to the Red Cross blood transfusion service during the current drive for blood donations.

Dave Wood delivered a short talk regarding the responsibilities and duties of the Rotarians, stating that the duties and responsibilities are a challenge to the members.

Catherine Agnes McCorkell Wed At St. Andrew's Catholic Church

Fraternal flowers decorated the altar of St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Church for the marriage Wednesday, of Miss Catherine Agnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McCorkell, and John Redmond Fitzgerald, son of Mrs. Thomas Fitzgerald and the late Mr. Fitzgerald all of Edmonton. The Rev. Fr. Mark Murphy celebrated the nuptial mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a slipper-length gown of white satin, fastened down the back with self-covered buttons. The fitted bodice featured lily-point leg-of-mutton sleeves, the full skirt with bustle-effect terminating in a slight train. A spray of French lilies held her full-length veil of English embroidered net. Her flow-

Fitch's Dandruff Remover SHAMPOO

By DOROTHY DIX

Pours Out Heart On Conditions at Home

Dear Dorothy Dix: Ever since I can remember, my entire life has been made up of fights, curses and filth. Fights in which my father and mother nearly killed one another; fights which I vainly tried to stop, only to get beaten while I pleaded with them. Curses that now mean nothing to me because they were words that became everyday expressions in my horrible home. Filth in a home reeking in dirt and vermin.

You wonder I didn't do something about it. Well, I did try from the age of 8 until now. The more I did, the more was expected of me, until the weight of the burden was more than I could bear, and I developed a weak heart.

You see, I wanted an education, but it is pretty hard to go to school without anything to eat, and when you are without lunch money and have to do without food altogether. After returning home from school, tired and hungry, to come into a filthy house, my mother sleeping off her drunk and my baby brother running about with no one to look after him. But that's my life. Tired and worn out I have to clean up the house, prepare supper, feed my two brothers and my father, wash the dishes, then do homework until 12 o'clock at night.

Do I have dates? Oh yes, I am not vain, but I know I am quite good-looking. But what good does that do me? I don't want anyone to come to my house and see the way I have to live.

I SUPPOSE YOU are thinking I am asking for sympathy, but you are wrong. I'm not, because I have my life all mapped out before me starting from this moment. I am not going to do one solitary thing in my home. Let it crumble, I am not going to try to prevent my father and mother from fighting. For all I care they can kill each other. I am going to finish school and try to save some money by working. I know my parents will beat me, but I have been beaten before. I know that the pain is only momentary, no matter how it hurts at the time.

After I graduate I am going to leave home. The only regret that I have is that I will have to leave my brothers in the hands of inadequate parents. But what has to be done must be done, for I will not sacrifice my life to live with my father and mother. I am looking ahead for a brighter tomorrow, happier with the thought that I will be free in just one and one-half years. Thanks for listening to me.

A teen-ager

Answer: Read it and weep. A more pathetic letter has never come to this column, and no woman, at least, can read without her whole heart going out with pity and sympathy to this poor girl who is the victim of her cruel and drunken parents.

I HOPE THAT all of the 16-year-old bobby - soxers who write to this column about how cruelly their mothers and fathers treat them because they won't let them have dates every night and step out until dawn, and who are threatening to run away from home, will read this teen-age girl's letter. Perhaps it will make them see how fortunate they are to have good homes, pretty clothes, plenty to eat, fathers and mothers who watch over them and take care of them and of whom they may be proud. And that they will get down on their knees and thank God for their good fortune.

As for this poor child, we might well wish her all the good luck in the world in payment for all she has suffered, but she doesn't need our sympathy. She has the courage, brains and the strength to conquer Fate.

Dear Miss Dix: I am engaged to a man whom I love very much. He has a wonderful salary and has found a beautiful home in which we could live after we were married, and he loves me very much. But he has buck teeth, a pug nose, and he wears horn-rimmed glasses. Also, he wants to sit at home and

Q. "I am wondering if one MUST wear a hat in order to be properly dressed. I do not like to wear one because of my coiffure and I feel much more comfortable without one. I want to know if I must wear a hat on a dinner date or to church? Also, is it incorrect to wear leg makeup with a formal? Must one wear stockings with a formal in order to be well dressed?"

A. Of course, it depends a lot on where one lives. The tendency today is certainly toward more freedom in going without a hat

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Children's appetites taper off in the hot weather. It is too much to expect that even the healthy baby will want all of his bottle or every mouthful of extra foods, when the temperature is high.

When he seems listless and pushes his food away, it is wiser to cut down on the sugar content of the formula. The baby may not need so much of this high energy and heat-making food when the temperature is soaring.

If he is taking a fresh milk formula, whose cream content rises to the top, then skim off some of the cream while his appetite is depressed. Don't urge him to finish the bottle, but increase the amount of cool boiled water he is drinking. He'll appreciate that and his fluid needs will be well supplied.

Be careful about letting him eat fresh fruits, unless they are at just the right stage of ripeness. Be aware of the dangers of unwashed, unpealed fruits no matter how good. The skins of fruit may have become contaminated by flies, or by handling with dirty hands, or just subjected to dust.

Water is vitally important, and while the small baby cannot ask for a drink as can the older child, he should have water offered many times during the day. It may be given by spoon, cup or bottle. And no sugar in it!

The baby's own skin may suffer from profuse perspiration so it should be bathed frequently. This doesn't mean a tub bath necessarily, but a sponge bath with tepid or cool water. To allow it to evaporate on the skin will reduce the body temperature and comfort. A cool quick under - running cool water and stored away in the coldest spot in the refrigerator until ready to serve. Anytime or in any way the milk or the formula becomes warm, the bacteria present begins to multiply.

These are sensible precautions against all those ailments and disorders which are allied to high temperatures.

and his deep understanding of human nature. This tribute was paid him by Ralph Assheton, Conservative member of Parliament when distributing prizes for Shakespearean study at the City of London school. "Such men are rare, but when the world is enriched by their presence they influence the minds of mankind and its liberty," he said.

WANT
VANCOUVER
HERE'S HOW!
No, we're not punch-hitting for the Vancouver Publicity Bureau! Our points is, however, that there's a shortage of good used cars in this Pacific Coast city and, acknowledged as Vancouver's most active car dealers, we're anxious to buy good numbers of cars provided that they're in good condition, recent make, and not totally unreasonable in price. Because prices are between 20 and 25% lower in Alberta, you can enjoy a much-needed vacation in Vancouver for practically cost-free, if you sell us your car. Our appraiser is generous and our need for good cars is genuine.

Interest In Channel Tunnel Is Revived Again In Britain

LONDON, (NANA) — Interest in the channel tunnel scheme — the plan to build a tunnel under the English channel from Dover to Calais — seems recently to have revived for some reason. First discussed more than a century ago, this continental link proposition sometimes has met with public favor and other times not, according to the sway of political moods.

In 1930 the project actually came within view of parliamentary acceptance, when the plan was defeated by only seven votes. This near victory was achieved in the teeth of opposition from the committee of imperial defense. Those in favor of the tunnel — quite accustomed to this sort of thing — maintain that it would be a logical outcome of Britain's alliance with France, and Churchill's vision of a Federated Europe. The latter, if achieved, would make hay of the objections on security grounds.

The death of Gordon Selfridge, merchant prince and bon vivant, recalled to a friend of his, Selfridge's interest in the channel tunnel scheme.

In the gay 'tween-wars era, when Selfridge was a leading socialite in England, at one of his famous store rooftop parties two theater stars complained to him that they disliked going o the Riviera, as the channel crossing always made them seasick.

"Leave it to me," replied Selfridge, and straight away planned a big scheme to stir up public interest in the tunnel. Being a master of publicity, he had everything on his side, and even got French cabinet ministers to write articles in the British newspapers praising the project. But, alas, Selfridge found he was not all-powerful, and the admiralty vetoed the scheme.

Mrs. M. Weeks, Mayor of Queensborough, England, has installed a grandfather clock in the city council chamber to time speeches.

NOW IS THE TIME TO RID YOUR HOME OF FLIES
MOSQUITOES, MOTHS AND OTHER INSECT PESTS
with GREEN CROSS
5% DDT
RESIDUAL HOUSEHOLD SPRAY!
"TWO APPLICATIONS LAST ALL SEASON!"

How would you like a summer free from flies, mosquitoes, moths, and other tiresome insect pests in your home? It's not only possible—it's easy—with GREEN CROSS DDT RESIDUAL HOUSEHOLD SPRAY! This is the miracle wartime insecticide in it's most effective pure household use . . . non-staining, safe to use, with no unpleasant odour.

"GREEN CROSS" Residual Household Spray is more than an ordinary DDT spray! DDT itself is slow in action, but the "GREEN CROSS" product is fortified with a special activator giving it quick knockdown as well as high killing power.

Notice that word "RESIDUAL"—the secret of GREEN CROSS DDT's fantastic success! With old type "space sprays," rooms had to be done practically every day. With GREEN CROSS, the lethal effect is lasting! You spray the surfaces where flies rest. The spray evaporates leaving a fine film of DDT on the surface. This remains deadly to insects that touch it, for weeks.

For best results, be thorough in your application. Spray walls, baseboards, floors, doors, etc., being sure to cover the entire surface as if with a painting. DO THIS NOW, WHILE HOUSECLEANING and once again later in the season.

For Summer Camps, too!

Remember to take a can of "Green Cross" DDT Spray up to Camp . . . it will help make life more comfortable.

GET YOUR SUPPLY IN—TODAY

In 8 oz., 16 oz., 32 oz., and 1 gal. cans.

The GREEN CROSS line also includes a complete selection of pest control products for the garden. Ask your dealer.

We sincerely believe that no car is more generally satisfactory to its owners than a Pontiac.

Year after year, Pontiac offers all that's good and all that's new — plus outstanding economy of operation and upkeep. It really leaves nothing essential to be desired – in performance, in comfort or in handling ease. And, always, it is one of the most beautiful cars to be seen on the streets and highways.

The 1947 Pontiac Silver Streak in an example of what we mean. People who get it need envy no one – and the same will be true of those who get their Pontiacs in 1948, 1949 or 1950. Year after year, Pontiac is a fine car – in every respect.

The stack of orders piled up for the New Pontiac are gratifying testimonials to the quality and beauty of this finest of the famous Silver Streaks. Unfortunately, so many orders also mean that many who choose Pontiac must wait. So if your car-wise head and heart say 'Pontiac' . . . your present car will give you better, safer service while you wait if you have it serviced by your Pontiac dealer.

Points for Parents

Mother: "You may as well quit teasing to go to camp. John went when he was your age and was so homesick we had to go after him. I'm not going to do that again."

Mother: "Because John was homesick at camp is no reason you will be. You are two different boys and I know you'll enjoy all the things they do at camp."

Keeping a younger child from having an experience which was not successful with an older one, ignored the truth that each person is a unique individual differing from every other person.
